FOURTEEN EUROPEAN NATIONS NOW AT WAR

Italy and Rumania Rush to Side of Entente Powers—Former Declares War on Germany and Latter Announces State of War With Austria-Hungary—German Federal Council Immediately Convoked—A Demonstration in Greece

BERLIN, August 28, via London, 7.05.—Germany has declared war on Rumania.

Rumania has entered the war with the entente allies. Official announcement is made at Berlin that the existence of a state of war with Austria-Hungary was proclaimed in Bucharest yesterday evening. Italy yesterday declared war on Germany.

No indications have been received thus far of the immediate effect on the military situation in the Balkans, which now becomes of preponderant importance, or of the moves doubtless already inaugurated by Rumania and by her opponent, which has been making preparations for this contingency. It is to be expected Rumania will follow a plan of campaign mapped out by the high council of the entente powers, whether against Austria-Hungary or Bulgaria or both.

The official announcement from Berlin states that on receipt of news of Rumania's action, the federal council was called for an immediate session. This may forecast a declaration of war by Germany against Rumania. The constitution of the German empire stipulates that the emperor may declare war if defensive, but when war is not merely defensive he must have the consent of the Bundesrath federal council.

Demonstration in Greece
Despatches from Athens indicate that popular feeling is stirred deeply by occupation of Greek territory by Bulgarian forces, although this move was sanctioned by the Greek government. Fifty thousand Greeks joined in a popular demonstration yesterday before the residence of former Premier Venizelos, an ardent supporter of the entente allies. The former premier urged that a committee be sent to King Constantine to warn him not to use his influence in the forthcoming general elections, because the results would be "destructive" and to request him to give the present government, which favors neutrality, full political authority, at the same time preparing the army for "a possible rupture" of existing conditions.

Little information is released by the censors in regard to the campaign on the Macedonian front.

CONGRESS READY TO ACT TO PREVENT BIG STRIKE

Wilson's Plan for Breaking Deadlock Announced—To Go Before Congress if Negotiations Fail

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Wilson's plan for breaking the deadlock between railroads and their employees as discussed today was as follows:

An eight-hour law for railroads to become effective at a date far enough in the future to give the railroads opportunity to prepare for it.

A law patterned after the Canadian act which creates a commission of investigation and prevents lockouts or strikes while an industrial dispute is being investigated.

This plan was discussed by the president with his party leaders in congress as the basis for the next step after the railroad managers have formally announced their refusal to accept the plan of settlement the president previously proposed. They were expected to do this at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon at a White House conference.

Meanwhile, congress leaders gave up hope of adjournment this week and settled down to stay here as long as necessary to provide legislation to meet the strike situation.

Senator Newlands and Commissioner Chambers of the Federal Mediation board conferred today with Acting Attorney General Todd about the legislative program, but all denied that any legal measures for preventing a strike had been discussed.

Wilson to Go Before Congress
While the president has not finally given up hope of bringing about an agreement through direct negotiations he is going forward with his preparations for going before congress with his plan for legislation.

The president, it was said, today has repeatedly shown a willingness to consent to any plan which would include the principle of the eight-hour day and has stood ready to submit to the railroad employees any plan suggested by the executives which had a possibility of acceptance.

It was understood today that many proposals of different form have been presented to the railway executives through the White House, but that they have all been met with the statement that the railroads stood for arbitrating the whole controversy.

If all the negotiations fail, the president goes before congress, probably tomorrow or Wednesday. It is said he will reveal the details of all the negotiations in his address and his plan for legislation.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, after his conference with the railway executives, President Wilson plans to go to the capitol to confer with the democratic steering committee of senators to discuss the proposed legislation.

Wilson's Reply to Rea
The four brotherhood heads issued a statement replying to President Rea of the Pennsylvania road, who last night made an announcement that rather than give up arbitration the roads preferred to face a strike. The statement charged the Pennsylvania with inconsistency in that two years ago it fought the efforts of its shopmen to organize an arbitrate. It also declared that as the controlling interest in five smaller roads it has refused them representation on the managers' conference committee and that if arbitration were agreed upon it would not apply to these roads.

Two Minor Accidents
OPERATIVE INJURED IN THE HAMMILLTON MILLS—MAN FELL FROM A CAR

Stanata Alexandros, residing at 523 Market street, sustained a slight scalp wound while at work at the Hamilton mills shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. The ambulance was summoned and she was taken to the Lowell hospital, where she received treatment.

At 12.30 o'clock this afternoon, the ambulance was called to the corner of Broadway and Walker street where Charles Wooler, of 350 Market street, was found suffering from bruises as a result of stepping off an electric car before the car came to a stop. The man was taken to his home.

VISITED THE HOTELS

SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE FOUND EVERYTHING ALL RIGHT IN LOCAL HOSTELRIES

There was at least one man in Lowell who called at all of the hotels in Lowell last night and that man was Lowell's superintendent of police, Raymond Welch. So much had been said editorially and verbally about the alleged "wide open" condition obtaining in Lowell and the abuse of the liquor business, the superintendent decided to see for himself and just for that he made a tour of the hotels, unattended and unannounced.

Asked today how he found conditions in the hotels, the superintendent said: "I did not find any cause for complaint and I visited all of the hotels. There were some instances, perhaps, where rooms were a little bit crowded, but I did not see any drunkenness and neither did I see any man drinking who did not have food of some kind in front of him. I saw nothing of which to complain."

The superintendent started out at 9.30 and finished his series of visits at 11.15.

FORCED TO EAT GARBAGE CAPTURED BY VILLISTAS

RUSSIANS SAID TO BE STARVING IN GERMAN PRISON CAMPS—2000 PRISON CAMPS

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Stories of suffering and illness among Russian prisoners of war in German detention camps, said to be due to lack of sufficient food, were told by C. Oberoucheff, secretary of the central committee organized in Switzerland for the relief of Russian prisoners, in a statement given out here today through Alice Stone Blackwell, editor of the Woman's magazine.

Prisoners of all nationalities receive the same food, but the British, French and Belgian soldiers fare better, according to Mr. Oberoucheff, because of the packages they frequently receive from home. They are forbidden, however, to share these extras with their less fortunate associates and, as a result, the Russians often eat garbage thrown out by the camp kitchens, the statement declares.

Information as to the condition of the Russians came first through delegates to the International Red Cross commission who had visited the prison camps and later was verified by personal talks with exchanged prisoners, according to Mr. Oberoucheff.

"The daily ration of the prisoners is very meagre," he said. "In the morning they are given coffee without milk or sugar and 200 grams of potatoes to last them the entire day. At noon they receive a small quantity of soup, some vegetables and some times, but not often, a piece of meat. Supper is much the same. It is clear that the prisoners must go hungry."

The English, French and Belgian prisoners often receive supplies of food from their governments, relief societies, or relatives or friends, but it is not so with the Russians. For instance, in one camp, the French prisoners at war got 12-pound packages every week, while Russian prisoners got only one package apiece in the course of two months and a half. Russian prisoners often beg help, not only from their own richer countrymen, but of prisoners of other nationalities. Many of them would be glad to give, but it is forbidden.

"The hungry Russians, however, take their soup plates to the French and beg for their loaves, and get them. Driven to desperation they sometimes even search the garbage and devour everything they find there."

Of about 600 more prison camps in Germany and Austria only about 100 are receiving help from relief committees, Mr. Oberoucheff declares.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR

BUTLER VETS WILL ATTEND ANNUAL MUSTER TO BE HELD AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Over 75 members of the General Butler Veterans Firemen's association of this city will attend the 26th annual Firemen's muster of the New England States, Veteran Firemen's league to be held in Providence, R. I., next Thursday. This year's affair will be one of the largest of its kind ever held. It has been endorsed by the Providence chamber of commerce and is being held in connection with the 45th annual convention of International Association of Fire Engineers. With the features that always attend the fire chief's conventions and the extensive muster program, more attractions will be found for firemen in Providence Thursday than ever before in the history of the New England States Veteran Firemen's league.

James H. Walker of this city is president of the Butler Vets, as the organization is generally known, and Cornelius F. Griffin will act as foreman of the men in charge of the muster. Of course, the old "City of Lowell" hand tub is entered in the squirting contest and judging from recent try-outs it will give the other tubs a good run for their money. Prior to the opening of the "City of Lowell" it was worked out on the North common and each time a stream of more than 200 feet was sent out which is considered very good. There are four prizes for the playout as follows: First, $200; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. Thirty tubs are entered in the contest.

Another big feature is the parade to take place on the same day. There will be 30 associations in line and each one will be headed by its tub. The parade will be reviewed by the largest number of the fire chiefs ever assembled at a similar event. Among the attractions in this parade will be the first hand tub ever made.

On account of the fire engineers' convention when demonstrations will be given by agents of all modern fire apparatus, a special playout has been arranged for motorized fire apparatus with prizes for the winners. In the Providence state armory, claimed by the committee to be the largest hall in New England, an exhibition of fire apparatus and equipment that will compare with any exhibition of its kind ever staged will be given.

The Lowell men will leave this city Thursday morning on the 8:30 train for Boston where they will board the special train for Providence. Any Lowell people desiring to make the trip with the Butler Vets will be welcome.

The mayor informed, Mrs. White, he would place the aldermanic chamber at the disposal of the lecturer.

Those New Firemen
Commissioner Putnam informed the Sun reporter this morning that at the next meeting of the municipal council which will be on Sept. 5, unless a special meeting is called in the meantime, he will again ask for the transfer of the $3500 for an automobile chassis to the regular fire department appropriation for the purpose of appointing five or six new firemen. The commissioner said he has, as requested by the council, taken an account of the stock on hand in the department as well as how much has been expended since the first of the year and he finds that on Aug. 1 he had a balance on hand of $75,353.47. The payroll for the remainder of the year will amount to $71,669.54, leaving a balance of $3,683.93. Being his estimate as about 1200 feet of sewer pipe will be laid. The Woburn street sewer, about 1000 feet long, will be completed about the middle of the week.

Chelmsford Street Hospital
The best fodder corn ever seen in the vicinity of Lowell for a long time can be seen in the fields of the Chelmsford Street hospital and Supt. Conley stated this morning that farmers in the immediate vicinity are astonished over the crop. The corn will be left on the field until the middle of September, but it is anticipated that it will be experienced in securing help for farm work. The inmates at the hospital today number 320, but there is not one among the men who is fit to work on the farm.

Water Department Busy
The water department has started work on the extension of several water mains in the city. At present men are employed on extending the main in Farmland road about 300 feet; extending the main in Woburn street about 600 feet, while the Bleachery street main, which runs over the land of the Lowell Bleachery Co., is being removed and placed in the street. Six men of the department are also at work on main extensions and changes in the yard of the Lowell Bleachery Co., but they are being paid by the company. Work on the Oakland main extension is progressing rapidly, the main having been extended as far as Fairmount street. There remains about 1 mile of extension to be done.

Severs and Streets
It is expected if the weather does not interfere that the paving of "Dutton street" will be completed as far as Fletcher street by Thursday evening. Mr. Morse stated this morning that he is now being handicapped by the Bay State Street Railway Co. in Fletcher and Thorndike streets. No paving can be done until the rails of the company are changed over and there is a delay because of the fact that special irons are needed for these two streets and the foundry is rather slow in getting them out.

The Bowers street sewer extension, which was started last Friday, is nearing completion and it is expected that within two or three days the Bowers street sewer will be shifted over to the sewer to drain the munition plant in Warrenville. Mr. Morse anticipates this last job will be a big one inasmuch as about 1200 feet of sewer pipe will be laid. The Woburn street sewer, about 1000 feet long, will be completed about the middle of the week.

Hearings This Evening
Commissioner Morse has no less than 14 hearings to preside over this evening. The hearings which will be held in the aldermanic chamber at 8 o'clock, have to do with petitions for streets, sewers, sidewalks, etc.

Will Build Cottage
Cecilia Lippe has taken out a permit for the erection of a seven-room house at 153 New York street. The house will be 24 by 25 feet, 11-2 story high and will cost about $1950.

State Primaries
The state primaries will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 26 and it is expected that this year's nominations will bring big surprises inasmuch as the representative and senatorial districts have been changed. There will be no party lines at the primaries.

Mayor Invited
Mayor O'Donnell has received an invitation from the Democratic National committee to attend the formal nomination to President Wilson of his re-nomination, which will take place at Shadow Lawn, West End, Long Branch, N. J., next Saturday. His honor will be unable to attend.

The Sixth Regiment band has been hired to supply music on the South common next Thursday. It is not as yet known whether or not the band will play in the afternoon for the closing exercises of the playgrounds, but it is a certainty that the band will supply music for the municipal dance on the common in the evening.

THREE MEN HELD IN PLOT TO ABDUCT ROLAND HARRIMAN — ARRESTED AT ST. ANTHONY

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 28.—Three men said by St. Anthony, Idaho, authorities to have been implicated in a plot to abduct Roland Harriman, sixteen-year-old son of Mrs. E. H. Harriman, widow of railroad magnate, and hold him for a ransom in the fastnesses of the Idaho mountains, were arrested last night at St. Anthony, according to word received here. # BIENNIAL ENCAMPMENT

Lowell Companies Will Participate in Unveiling of Lafayette Monument at Fall River

The biennial encampment of the French American Volunteer brigade of the United States will be held at Fall River on Sept. 2, 3 and 4 and the affair will be held jointly with the unveiling of the Lafayette monument, which will be donated to the city of Fall River by the Franco-Americans of that city. Another important item in connection with the encampment will be the 10th anniversary of the founding of the brigade.

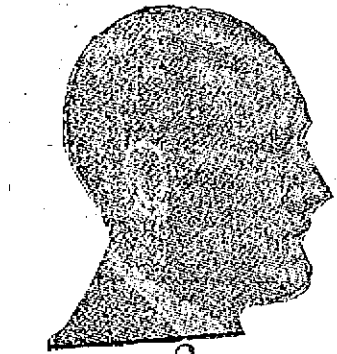

The Lowell companies of the brigade will attend the encampment in a body and they will leave this city on the afternoon of Sept. 1 or next Friday afternoon. The Lowell companies are as follows: Garde Frontenac, Capt. Albert Bergeron; Garde d'Honneur, Capt. Nelson Phillips; Garde Sacre-Coeur, Capt. Horace Desilets; Garde St. Louis, Capt. Arsene Guy and A. G. Cadets, Major Alcide Bellefeuille.

The official program for the encampment is as follows:

MESSAGE FOR ALL AFFLICTED PEOPLE

Rev. Thomas F. Foster, Evangelist, Says Plant Juice Acted Like a Charm

Daily we see peculiar names flaring out from bill boards and electric signs. The idea is to cause inquiry, create interest, and in many cases, so inspire curiosity, so as to make a false idea as to the true worth of the object in question. This is so of various preparations, soaps, proprietary medicines, beverages, and other articles sold by advertising. Among the few popular articles now before the public, which make any effort to indicate the nature of the object named, is Plant Juice, the new herbal remedy. The name "Plant Juice" instantly informs one of the true nature of the remedy. It is the juices of Plants—the extracts from medicinal herbs, and this is one of the outstanding reasons why Plant Juice has taken such a hold on the American public.

Since its introduction here, many testimonials are daily received, telling of the great benefits derived. One of the most recent is that of the noted Evangelist, Rev. Thomas F. Foster, who resides at No. 65 Frambes Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, and whose fame has spread throughout the United States on account of his brilliancy and good work in the Evangelistic field. He writes:

"In making my statement as to the benefit derived from the use of Plant Juice, I want to say, for the benefit of others, that I am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering from stomach trouble. It is certainly a charm, and it has been more to me than I could have reasonably expected, considering the little bit of relief I had experienced from good physicians, and one of our expert stomach specialists, who is considered among the best. I thank you for the benefit of Plant Juice."

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, Druggist, Merrimack Square, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

WRONG PICTURES

Rev. E. H. Newcomb Condemns Certain Types of Moving Pictures

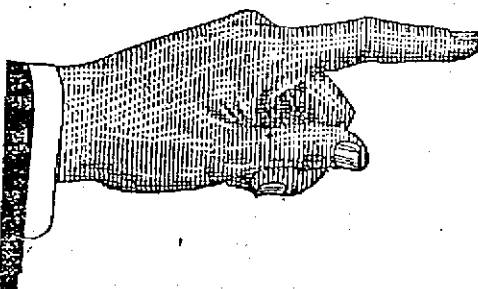

At the union services of the Congregational churches of the city held in the First Congregational church, Sunday morning, the preacher, Rev. E. H. Newcomb, took for his sermon subject the motion picture, "Where Are My Children?" He questioned the sincerity of its presentation and the propriety of presenting any such subject in a public gathering place. He said in part:

"It makes all the difference in the world where you, as a boy, or you, as a girl, get certain information. It makes all the difference what the purpose is of giving out certain information. If an older boy or an older girl tells it, and tells it merely with the idea of shocking, or uncovering something which had not been dreamt of before, then it is wrong, dead wrong.

AND HE WON'T HURT YOU

But if it is done with the honest intent of setting you on the right path through knowledge then we should thank the one who tells us.

"During the week there will probably go many thousands to see this subject treated. Some of you, I believe, will go, and you will come out with blisters on your cheeks, and you will urge friends to go because you will be made to believe that it's something which ought to be seen.

"Smashing, 'dashing'—thrilling—'shocking' it is described as being. Yes these are the things that look Rome down to her destruction—the shocks, the dashes, the smashes, the thrills, and these same kind of things will take everybody down who goes to experience them. What the liquor saloons do for the appetite, the theatres do for the passions.

"We are told that New England is feverish over the exhibition of these pictures, but I do not imagine that it is all a healthy fever. They are coming thick and fast in Lowell.

"Did you read the address of Cardinal O'Connell a few days ago—a powerful address from the standpoint of the Roman Catholic? Clearly he set forth what eminent Protestant clergymen had said. He said that he would quote their words, and their words alone, to the effect that the Protestant churches are not half filled today, that there is an apparent lack of interest in the teachings of the Protestant church, and that the Protestants seem strangely to lack that steadfastness of faith which had so characterized their fathers of previous generations. He merely quoted statements made by noted Protestants throughout this country.

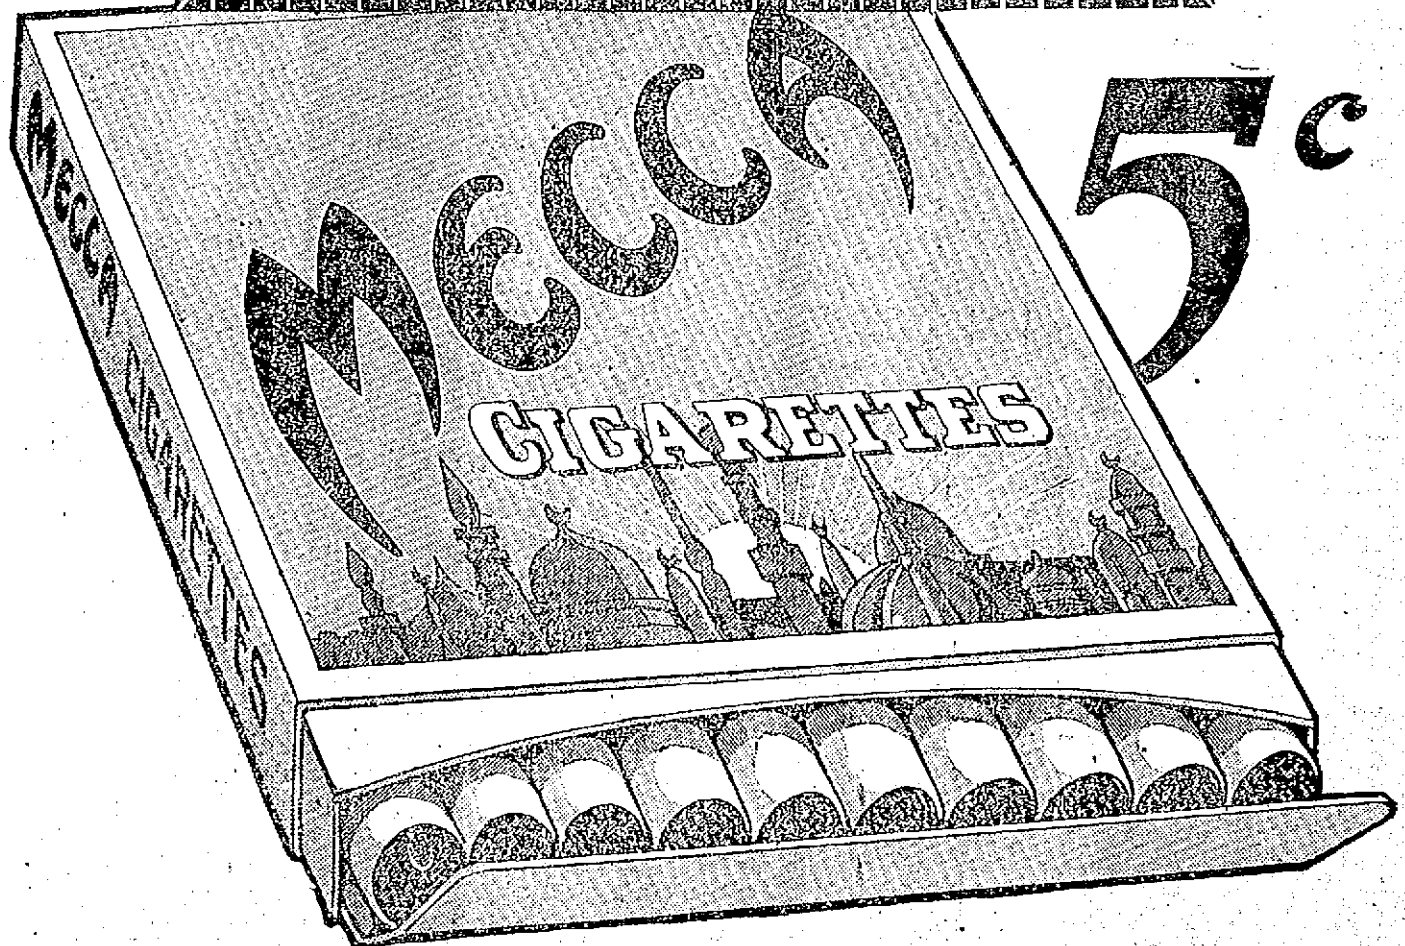

"I have a strong admiration for the archbishop of Chicago who has not only put in force the ban against dancing, but who has forbidden the pretexts of his diocese from attending any theatre, because the tendency of the theatre is downward, and he wishes them to set good examples for their parishioners by rigidly abstaining themselves from such places.

"Yes, may we well ask 'Where are my children?' Where are they? What of the thousands who today are on our streets, at our resorts, here and there, but not in the church of God? They have wandered away, they are not spiritually re-born, and except they become re-born then they cannot enter the kingdom of heaven. God, through the ages, has asked that question. 'Where are my children?' and because he has asked it I feel it a fit subject to discuss. Through God's teaching and his church may those things in life which should be dealt with in a spirit of delicacy and strength be taught, and not elsewhere. I am firmly convinced."

SAYS WILSON BLOCKS LOAN
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Chairman Wilcox of the republican national committee, in a broadside at the democratic administration yesterday, charged President Wilson with repudiating a government contract with bankers who promised to participate in the Chinese "Six-Power loan."

President Wilson's unwillingness to state in writing a position which he voluntarily assumed, because it is a radical reversal of a position which he assumed early in his administration, constitutes a grave menace to the foreign trade of the United States, especially in China, is the charge made.

NOTE HINTS SUICIDE PACT
WAKEFIELD, Aug. 28.—The finding of a note indicating a possible double suicide caused the police of Saugus and this town to make a thorough search yesterday along the shores of Wakefield pond in the game reservation of the Breakheart Hill Forestry association. A large area of wooded land lying between here and Saugus. Nothing in the nature of clothing or bodies was to be seen, and it was decided that the pond should be dragged today.

The note was found by Clarence B. Decatur, a young man who lives in the Greenwood section, as he was walking in the reservation. The note was written on a sheet of plain white paper, and was held firm on a large bowlder by a small piece of rock. It was signed Arthur, and said: "I could not stand it any longer. Forgive me and notify my brother, John E. Martin, Sr., Oklahoma. Tell him I died with her."

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD NOT SATISFIED THAT SIX-FOOTER WAS AFRAID OF LITTLE MAN

Special to The Sun

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 28.—A six-footer who "beats it" away from a man who has to stretch in order to reach five feet, after the little man has decorated his larger playmate with jelly from his lunch basket, and who later has his hand cut because he permits the little fellow to knock a bottle out of his hand, need expect little sympathy from the industrial accident board, even though the little fellow is pestiferous and always looking for a fight.

Jeremiah Begley of Chicopee, formerly employed by the Fisk Rubber company in that city, asked the board recently to rule that he was entitled to compensation because of an injury which he received March 22 last. He testified that he was eating his dinner that day when one Rivers, another employe, threw a handful of jelly all over him. He testified that Rivers was always arguing with him and looking for a fight, and although they had been friends for a year he was in constant fear that Rivers would "beat him up." Accordingly, when the jelly landed, Begley took to his heels; a little later he was walking down the aisle with an empty tea bottle in his hand, intending to return it to his lunch basket, when Rivers attempted to knock it out of his hand, breaking the bottle and cutting the hand.

The arbitration committee organized by the board to investigate the matter, of which Frank J. Donahue, chairman of the board, was chairman, found that "If Rivers was such a person as he was represented to be, and if the company, having knowledge of his quarrelsome disposition and beligerent tendencies, continued him in its employ, it would constitute his presence in its shop one of the risks of employment there, so that an attack by him upon Begley could be found to be a natural result of the employment of a peaceable workman in company with a quarrelsome, fight-seeking, trouble-maker."

"In its report, however, the committee states that it is 'unable to picture the claimant, over six feet in height and constructed altogether like a fighting-man, 'beating it' when attacked by his 'friend' Rivers, who stopped growing before he achieved five feet. We saw Mr. Begley and heard him. For him we say that we do not believe he would flee from anybody. Mr. Rivers may have been an extremely pestiferous person. To be decorated with jelly is not as conducive to enjoyment in the decorated as it may be to mirth in the decorator. Looking backward, it may, appear funny, but it is within the bounds of prudence to say that very likely Mr. Begley was visibly annoyed at the time. As we saw and heard him, we should expect him to be a somewhat aggressive person when annoyed. We mistrust the destination which he intended for that empty bottle which he meandered down the aisle with, and which, he says, he was going to put back in his lunch basket. Mr. Begley may be as unusual a man as his testimony makes him out to be, but certainly it is unusual to eat one's dinner at a distance from one's lunch basket."

"Later on, when Mr. Begley calmly reviews the circumstances surrounding his injury and disability, we believe that he will thank this committee for refusing to blot his family name by finding that the little Rivers was always the aggressor and that he, six-foot Begley, was always engaged in ignominious retreat." HOYT.

THE ENTIRE PARTY TRAVELING IN ABOUT 60 AUTOMOBILES

leged, conducted the place.

Lieut. Freeman, Sergt. Ryan, Inspector Walsh and Patrolman J. H. Clark testified to the conditions they found. During the course of the testimony the witnesses for the government testified how they had watched the building on different occasions and had seen a number of men enter and leave the place. On the morning in question they waited an opportunity to enter, managing to force their way in when two men were being admitted. They claimed that Wong was stationed at the door and when they appeared he pushed a button which sounded a buzzer over a table in the basement of the building. Gathered around the table were 13 men who were playing games. Cards, dominoes, dice and other gaming implements were on the table as was $5.20 in money.

Wong said he came from Boston about a month ago and had been working in a laundry in Moody street. He said that the place raided was a club room where men of his race gathered at different times. He said he was not a member of the club, but had been invited to the place on several occasions since coming to the city. He did not know any of the officers of the alleged club and neither did two other men who claimed to be members.

A young man who takes care of the property testified that he collected the rent every month, but that Wong never paid him, although he admitted that he had been paid by different people on several occasions.

The court in summing up the evidence in the case found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $50. He appealed.

Neglected His Wife

Charles Clark, who is well along in years, was married three months ago, but evidently he and his wife did not get along very well for this morning she had him before the court for non-support. She claimed that he had beaten her and threatened her and failed to give her support. She was asked to pay $1 a week towards her support but said that would be a hardship for he did not have steady work. When it was learned however that he had $200 in his possession when arrested the court said Clark would either pay $4 a week or go to the house of correction for four months.

Disturbed Campers

William G. Barton of Boston was charged with drunkenness but Officer Hooper of Tewksbury informed the court, that several other witnesses, that Barton and some other young men who were camping in Tewksbury raised ructions Sunday, disturbing people in the vicinity. The court imposed a fine of $15 and said that he intended to make examples of people from the vicinity of Boston who annoy the campers in the suburban towns.

Assaulted in Saloon

Kyrian Bowick was charged with assault and battery on John Gondek. The pair met in a saloon in Lowell, Saturday night and the former, without any provocation whatsoever, hurled a glass at Gondek which inflicted a gash on the right jaw.

The injured man was taken to an hospital and several stitches were taken in the wound. Bowick was fined $20.

Continued Cases

Ignatius Suigach was charged with assault and battery on John Kosack but by agreement the case was continued till Sept. 6.

The cases of Margaret Tigh, charged with disturbing the peace, were continued till the same date.

WAS AGREEABLY SURPRISED

Miss May Gilligan, who is soon to become a bride, was agreeably surprised at her home, 130 Bowers street, Friday evening when a number of young ladies from the J. L. Chalfoux Co. called on her and presented her a gas dome and mahogany serving set. The presentation speech was made by Miss Theresa Dean and Miss Gilligan responded in a neat speech. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable entertainment program carried out.

THE RECRUITING STATION

Recruiting in the office of the local armory has again taken on a dull period after a week of good business when an average of two or more applicants were received each day. The staff of recruiting officers, under the direction of Major Philip T. Eitredge, remained in their quarters all forenoon without a visitor today, however. Young men from Lowell and surrounding towns are not as anxious for a trip to the border as in other parts of the state, according to reports from various armories where recruiting is being done.

CONCERT AT HIGHLAND CLUB

Despite the unfavorable weather last evening, the municipal band concert given at the Highland club by the National band, assisted by the Honey Boy quartet, was largely attended and the large gathering thoroughly enjoyed the program. The band and the quartet were seated on one of the large piazzas of the clubhouse, while the large attendance sat on the lawn surrounding the building. Each number was fully appreciated.

GIRL NURSE KILLED

MISS SYLVIA MATHEWSON STRUCK ON HEAD BY LIMB OF TREE WHEN BIG AUTO SKIDDED

WORCESTER, Aug. 28.—Miss Sylvia Mathewson, 20 years old, a nurse at the Worcester state hospital, was fatally injured in an automobile accident between West Boylston and Sterling, at an early hour yesterday morning, and died a few hours later at the Worcester city hospital from a fractured skull and nervous shock.

Miss Mathewson and two other nurses at the state hospital, Miss Ruth A. Sherman and Miss Elsie R. Morley, were in a large covered touring car driven by Raymond H. Cyrus of 19 Linwood street, East Orange, N. J. Others in the car were Herbert Clarkson of 17 East Battery, Charleston, S. C., and Alfred Laforrier of 126 Franklin street, Worcester.

The car is owned by Charles C. Campbell of 61 Broadway, New York, who is in Worcester on business. Cyrus is his chauffeur and Mr. Campbell says the car was taken by Cyrus without his permission. He told the police that it was unquestionably a joy ride.

According to the police the big car skidded on the slippery road a short distance from Sterling inn shortly after midnight and a branch from a big tree overhanging the side of the road protruded through the top and struck Miss Mathewson on the head. She was treated by a West Boylston doctor and removed to the Worcester hospital.

SEVERE STORM

A Motorman Killed at Terryville, Connecticut—Heavy Damage

BRISTOL, Conn., Aug. 28.—A severe electrical storm swept over Central Connecticut last night, causing considerable property loss in this city and neighboring towns. A rainfall that resembled a cloudburst, did $10,000 damage to this city's streets; five barns were struck by lightning and burned; numerous cattle and horses were killed; hundreds of trees were blown down and trolley, electric light and telephone service demoralized in a dozen towns.

In Terryville Thomas O'Keefe, a motorman on a trolley car, was killed when he came in contact with a live feed wire blown down by the wind.

MILL BLOWN UP

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—One of the worst storms this section has experienced in years swept over Troy and portions of Rensselaer county yesterday afternoon.

At Schaghticoke a powder mill was struck by lightning and blown up. No one was injured, but the property damage will amount to thousands of dollars. Nearly every window in the village was broken. Several buildings in the outskirts of Troy were struck and burned. In this city some of the streets were impassable, being filled with water, which overflowed curbs and entered buildings.

BOLT VISITS DOVER FARM

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 28.—In one of the heaviest thunder storms of the season, the barn of Frank Swain, a farmer and market gardener, about one mile out of the city on the Portland turnpike, was struck by lightning and destroyed, yesterday, with all its contents, including two horses, four cows, two heifers, about 20 tons of hay, vehicles, harnesses and farming tools.

The bolt appeared to set fire to all parts of the barn, as it was ablaze all over at once, and it was impossible to try to save any of the live stock. The damage will exceed $2000, with some insurance.

THE GREEK COMMUNITY

The first election of officers of the Greek community under the new charter will be held in the basement of the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street on Labor Day and 12 directors instead of 21 will be chosen, while the officers, such as president, secretary, treasurer, auditors and school committee will be selected by the voters and not by the directors as before. Another important change in the charter is that a recall may be started by 100 voters instead of by two-thirds of the voters.

MOTORCYCLE STRUCK POLE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Guimond of Ash street, Nashua, N. H., were seriously injured Saturday night when their motorcycle crashed into a telephone pole on the Lowell road near the Smith farm. Mrs. Guimond, who was riding in the side car, was more seriously injured of the two. Both were taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Nashua where they received treatment.

Mr. Guimond, who was operating the motorcycle, turned out for another motorcycle, and before he could bring his machine to a standstill it crashed into the pole. Charles Rogers of 296 Columbus avenue, Boston, found the couple in the road and placing them in his automobile took them to the hospital.

LADY LOOKABOUT

If the little lad had been bigger, half-grown even, I would have been sure that he was a faithful reader of the Saturday Evening Post stories, or of the "Get Out and Get On" series running in one of the magazines, but he was only four, so I was forced to believe that it was Yankee commercialism that had infected him, hyphen and all. None of us knew where he had come from and all questions, no matter how cleverly worded, elicited no information as to his name, and only "down city" as to his residence. He was looking for a job.

"Got a job for a feller?" he practiced.

He was asked what he could do.

"Most anything," he answered.

Judging by the way he looked at a nearby apple-tree, the job of gathering the fallen fruit made a strong appeal.

"Can you pick up apples?" he was asked.

"Um-m," he returned, his eyes glistening.

He was directed to go to work, but before he began, the eternal question proceeded from the baby lips:

"How much is in it?"

A price was agreed upon, and manfully he began to pick up apples in a little pile. Several moments went by; he did not come to empty the pile. Several more moments passed, and I went out to investigate. There he lay on the grass, a munched apple in his hand, a ragged straw hat near. He was sound asleep. We carried him to the house and made him comfortable. Soon he awoke. Instead of crying he insisted on going back to the tree, filling his pail, and toddling off with his wages clasped in a grimy little hand, headed for the nearest candy store.

School Graduates

The problem which presents itself for solution at this time every year to the parents of children who have graduated from high school, is again facing them and while at this late date, the question has been settled for many, there always is another year coming, with its boys and girls whose futures must be planned in regard to further schooling. It is an excellent thing for those who can afford the time and money necessary for a liberal university course before settling down to a specific course. It gives the student time and opportunity to know and gauge his own limitations, many of which he does not suspect when he has just completed his high school course. This little talk is not for boys and girls of that class.

Another fortunate class of graduates is made up of boys and girls who have a strong inclination to a vocation, so strong that they know just what they want to do and how to set about accomplishing their purpose. This little talk is not for that class.

The third class, and by far the largest, is made up of boys and girls who need some help in deciding their future course. This indecision on their part is due to many causes. Principal among them is ignorance, or to use a milder term, lack of information in regard to the lines of endeavor open to the youth of today. This lack of information goes back to the parents, who, through no fault of their own, are unacquainted with the new fields of work opened since they themselves were young. I shall return to this class.

Another class is made up of those who unfortunate as to be cursed (I used the word advisedly), with versatility. These are the persons who are adept at whatever they may turn their hands to. During childhood and early youth they are the joy of their parents and the envy of their schoolmates. As time goes on, however, they join the great class of the commonplace. They still are versatile, but like so many others, Jack-of-all-trades-yet-masters-of-none. They have attempted many things and in some instances reached the point where much could be done fairly well, yet lacking the finesse of the skilled artisan or the thorough knowledge of their often less brilliant companions. Very often the young pupil of flashing, superficial brilliancy in school, who prides himself on keeping up with his classes without hard study, finds himself in this class. He grows to be the man who is hitherto unconscious of his own short-comings, and invariably accounts for his lack of the striking success his school days promised, to never having received "a square deal." The adult of this class is a hopeless proposition. The young boy or girl can be trained by patient teaching, in habits of concentration, application and, above all, in completing a given task before beginning another. He must not be permitted to abandon a task once begun until he has entirely finished it, no matter what heartaches and discouragement this course may involve.

To return to the former class, those whose lack of information has shortened their field of vision to their immediate vicinity. These need wise and helpful counsel, and gentle suggestion from those whose knowledge is wider than that of the ordinary child and his parents. Many of this class choose an occupation because it is the least distasteful of many, and not because of any particular love of the calling, and this is the reason we find so many misfits in the ranks of persons in positions requiring as a first requisite, something more than the ordinary common school education. Girls, more especially than boys, seem to gravitate automatically into this class, and the reason is easily seen. The woman trained in the educational field is a comparatively modern institution. Until within a very short time, few avenues of expression for her ability and training were open to her. In the memory of persons still accounted young, our own city offered little to the self-supporting woman beyond factory work, housework and a few teaching positions. The cause of many misfits can be understood readily when this condition is appreciated and naturally, for a long time, woman's success in the industrial world was open to question. With the progress of time, however, countless other avenues were opened, and woman's economic value in the business, industrial and scientific world became assured.

Teaching, once the goal of ambition of every mother for her daughter, no longer holds first place in choice of occupation. With the advent of vocational training, household economics is filling a long felt want for girls fitting for work. It offers an opening for those who wish to teach cooking, sewing or kindred household arts; to direct work in domestic science or to institute or to administer an independent household, or to specialize in the study of problems of house-hold economics. A student of this work gains a knowledge of applied science, applied design, and practice in the household arts. Colleges are offering degrees to graduates of these courses, and besides opening a new field for the employment of trained women, it raises to a position of dignity those homely tasks found within the home which, a short time ago, seemed destined only to contempt.

For women who feel inclined to office work, opportunity is offered to prepare for the duties of private secretary, registrar, office assistant, or teacher of commercial subjects. Opportunity is also offered to those who contemplate entering the civil service, or acting as general assistants to persons engaged in scientific, literary or professional pursuits.

For those who prefer technical work which is distinctly cultural, the courses offered in library science are desirable. Students are trained in those duties involved in the administration of a library. This course is especially well fitted for those who seek broad, general and academic training, and at the same time furnishes equipment for filling a lucrative position.

For those who like teaching, yet shrink from the monotony and dead-levelness of grade work, courses are offered in many colleges for students who wish to become teachers of biology, chemistry or physics, research assistants in chemistry or biology, or secretaries to persons engaged in medical or other scientific research, or to fill certain other positions which involve the application of these sciences in the arts. While this work is largely pedagogical, the student is fitted for research work and at the present time many government positions are open to persons qualified in these branches.

Social work offers a comparatively new field for the trained woman. Opportunities are offered in this work for studying social problems by practical methods, especially to persons who wish to become paid officers of institutions and agencies, or to prepare themselves for service as volunteers in some trade or industry. Probably the latest and best results of practice, together with the underlying principles of social service are placed at the disposal of the student, and this work promises to become more and more important as time goes on.

The recent development of technical high schools, industrial schools and vocational schools has increased the demand for teachers who are adequately prepared to give instruction in such schools. An untrained person cannot fill a position of this sort, as she is expected to be familiar with industrial conditions and when possible, to have had practice in the industrial arts under business conditions. She must be prepared to give instruction in courses of study which have been planned with reference to immediate use in industrial fields. Her pupils go from school to work, and frequently she is called upon to give part-time schooling to girls employed in some trade or industry. Probably, just at present, a wider field is open to women, prepared to give instruction in schools of this kind and special preparation is necessary as the ordinary curriculum of the normal schools is not yet meeting this demand.

Perhaps the most recent course to be offered in colleges which offer to women training and instruction which shall best enable them to earn an independent livelihood, along congenial lines is that of salesmanship.

In nearly all large department stores much educational work is done by paid instructors. Instruction is also given in salesmanship. Special preparation is given to women for conducting this work, both in department stores and high and continuation schools. The returns in efficiency to the management of the department stores have been so great that the position of teacher, of salesmanship, offers to the successful incumbent, not only progressive and congenial work, but carries with it in many cases the largest salaries employed women have been known to receive.

While these courses are open in colleges to high school and college graduates, and while all which have been enumerated carry with them the degree of Bachelor of Science, it will be welcome and refreshing news to many to learn that the degree is not today the fetish it formerly has been. This may seem a trifling announcement to the indifferent reader, but to those who have found closed to them the door of advancement on account of the absence of a degree, it will mean much. It means that a person who through difference to opportunities or for other reasons cannot enter a college or advanced school through the regular channels of examination or certification, may enter as a special student and follow the trend of his ambition in the regular course; it means that he may finish it and compete with the holders of degrees in the industrial and business world, and it means that anyone with courage, self-confidence and ambition may truly "hitch" his wagon to a star.

Here in our own city we have promising boys and girls who do not know what to do with themselves; we have brilliant and clever women in school, room, office and department store. The world is calling to them to fill larger positions, and the progressive educational institutions of the day presenting the opportunity and pointing the way.

EXCESSIVE MEAT EATING

Most people who are troubled with flatulency eat more meat than is good for them. Flatulency is wind on the stomach. Excessive meat eating or defective nerve force is responsible in most cases.

Cutting down the amount of meat in your diet and taking a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to strengthen the weak nerves that control the digestive processes is well worth trying if you have wind on the stomach, sour risings in the throat, a feeling of weakness in the stomach and palpitation of the heart. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for thin blood and weak nerves, whatever the cause.

Send today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the diet book "What to Eat and How to Eat." It gives information regarding the tonic treatment for many forms of stomach trouble. There cannot be perfect digestion without a sufficient supply of red blood and there is nothing better than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and tone up the stomach.

Your own druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

RECOVERED VICTIMS OF CHILD PARALYSIS GIVE BLOOD FOR BENEFIT OF SUFFERERS

EXERCISING VICTIMS OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS
AND TAKING SERUM FROM RECOVERED CHILD

The accompanying pictures illustrate two methods of exercising children crippled by infantile paralysis, and also the taking of blood from a recovered child for the extraction of serum. Authorities on the disease hold that the blood of recovered sufferers contains an immunizing agent which can be obtained from the serum of the blood and used effectively in treating patients. Volunteers have come forward to offer their blood for this purpose. Among the contributors in New York was a young man who gave eight ounces despite the fact that he had given six ounces a week before. He said he was going on a vacation soon. The photographs were made by special permission in a large New York hospital.

MOTOR BOAT BURNED

LIVES OF 20 PERSONS ENDANGERED—12 HOISTED TO BRIDGE BY ROPES

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 28.—The lives of a score of persons were endangered, 12 men were hoisted to the floor of the Kittery bridge by means of ropes, and the motorboat of Arthur Tobey of Stoneham, Mass., was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, in an odd series of accidents on the Piscataqua river. While Mr. and Mrs. David H. Carlick, their two children and four guests, were on their way down the river from Great Bay, the motorboat in which they were riding struck the bridge at Dover Point and later struck Boiling Rock, near Elliot, Me. The boat, damaged by the impacts, began to leak and Mr. Carlick put into a cove on the Elliot shore. In the cove they found a covered boat. While they were examining this boat, a lantern tipped over, setting it afire. On the other side of the river, a party of 12 Dover men bound for a fishing trip in a boat owned by Bert Toke of Dover, saw the flames and started to cross the river. Their boat was nearly overturned by the swift current and was swept between two side-pieces of the foundation work of the Kittery bridge in such a way that it was held fast. Other witnesses sent calls to the Portsmouth police and fire departments. In the meantime, the Carlick party was rescued by another boating party, consisting of John Connors and Raymond and Harvey Knight, of Portsmouth. When the firemen arrived, the Tobey boat had been destroyed, and they assisted the police in rescuing the 12 members of the Toke party from their uncomfortable position. One after another the 12 men were drawn up to the floor of the bridge by ropes tied around their waists. None of the persons involved in the accidents was injured.

DR. CUSHING IS DEAD

NOTED BOSTON SURGEON PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY—TRUSTEE OF ROBERT BRIGHAM HOSPITAL

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Dr. Ernest Watson Cushing of 108 Newbury street, a practicing surgeon in Boston since 1874, and a trustee of the Robert Brigham hospital, died yesterday. He was 69 years old.

In his early work, Dr. Cushing specialized on diseases of the nose and throat, but it was because of his work in abdominal surgery, and gynecology, which he taught at Tufts Medical school for 15 years, that Dr. Cushing became nationally known.

Dr. Cushing was born in this city Jan. 17, 1847. He received the degree of A. B. from Harvard in 1867 and the degree of M. D. four years later from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia. Two years later, in 1873, while he was studying in Vienna, Dr. Cushing married Marie von Balenowsky. Mrs. Cushing and five daughters, Mrs. Stephen W. Sloper, Mrs. Timothy Leary, Mrs. William G. Reuter, Miss Helen Cushing, and Miss Margaret Cushing, survive him.

In 1884, upon his return from study in Europe, Dr. Cushing gave the first demonstration in Boston of the then recently discovered tubercle bacillus. Three years later he became the editor of the Annals of Gynecology and Pediatrics. In 1890, in illustrating his translation of Martin's "Diseases of Women," Dr. Cushing applied for the first time the newly discovered half-tone process to micro-photography, in which he was a pioneer.

Dr. Cushing was a member of many medical associations. He was given the degree of LL.D. from Tufts college in 1894.

GOVERNORS TO ATTEND

HAMPTON BEACH CARNIVAL MAY ALSO BE FAVORED WITH PRESENCE OF HUGHES

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., August 28.—Governor Roland H. Spaulding of New Hampshire, with the members of his staff, and council and Secretary of State Edwin F. Bean will be present at the Hampton Beach carnival on "Governor's Day," Thursday, September 7. It is expected that Governor Samuel McCall of Massachusetts will also be present on this particular day, although this fact is not definitely known as yet.

The committee of the board of trade is also bending every possible effort to secure Charles Evans Hughes to speak on the beach on "Progressive Day," which occurs on Wednesday, September 6. Mr. Hughes has been scheduled to speak at York beach, Me., on September 8 and those having the matter in charge have been assured by the republican managers that former Justice Hughes will be assigned to Hampton beach if possible. The carnival committee expects that there would be over 100,000 people on the beach to hear Mr. Hughes' address, should he speak here.

As many as 500,000 people are expected to visit Hampton beach during this second annual gala week and to-many young brilliant stars who will be a menace to the favorites. In every round of the tournament, to say nothing of the red-hot battle that will be waged between William M. Johnston, the defending title holder, Dick Williams, Maurice McLoughlin, George Church and Kumagai, the Jap, before the question of tennis supremacy is settled. William M. Johnston, the 113-pound Californian who defeated McLoughlin in a heart-breaking match for the title last year, probably has the best individual chance, yet anything is likely to happen in a long elimination contest, and young Johnston is not any too strong in endurance, which is a potent factor the way the court game is played nowadays. Maurice McLoughlin is being regarded as the great "outsider factor," mainly because he has not performed in the east this year and no one apparently knows his true physical condition. If Red Mac is "right" and in full command of his old burning speed, then there's very apt to be unexpected upsets before the final round is reached. Dick Williams, the player with the greatest assortment of strokes in the United States, is always a contender. When Harvard Dick is real good he's practically invincible, but Mr. Williams is also provokingly erratic and in one of his bad spells may be rudely eliminated by some second rater. Lay-out shows three stars, one of whom is expected to win the tournament, No. 1, Maurice McLoughlin; 2, William M. Johnston, the present national champion; 3, R. Morris Williams.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The all-comers' tournament, the world's series of the tennis season, is now on at Forest Hills here. There are 128 players entered for the championship, all the foremost American cracks and the extra attraction of an international invasion consisting of an Austrian count, a Russian and those two Japanese, Ichiya Kumagai and M. H. Mikami. Unlike the old Newport days, when William Larned was a perennial champion, this year's tournament won't be soft pickings for any particular star. There are too many it is difficult to secure cottages and hotel bookings for that particular period.

"The average number of employees of all the railroads in the United States whose annual operating revenues amounted to $100,000 or more last year was 1,499,342, the number of miles of road coming under this classification being about 225,000. The total compensation paid these employees was $1,165,000,000, an amount exceeding the total revenues of the United States government for 1913-14 by more than a hundred and twenty million dollars. The average annual wage of railway employees is, therefore, $326.

"Among the railway employees in 1914, the largest average daily compensation went to general officers, $16.83, with other officers ranking second, $6.45. Third in line of average daily compensation were the engine-men, $5.24, followed by conductors, $4.47. The lowest wage was to the trackmen, a daily average of $1.52. In every class save one (employees of float floating equipment) the compensation for 1914 was more than in 1913, the largest daily increase going to the general officers (39 cents) and the firemen ranking next (9 cents) and conductors third (8 cents.)

"For the twelve months ending June 30th, 1915, our railroads carried 576,000,000 passengers, 76,000,000 fewer than during the previous twelve months. These travelers paid the roads $548,000,000, about 68 cents each, and the average receipts per passenger mile were a fraction under two cents. The number of tons of revenue-producing freight handled was 1,502,000,000, for which shippers paid the roads $1,377,000,000. The average freight rate per ton per mile for these shipments was a little less than three-quarters of a cent.

"The total railway operating revenues for the year amounted to $2,958,000,000, with operating expenses of $2,058,000,000.

THE AMERICAN RAILWAYS

UNITED STATES EXCEEDS BY 50,000 MILES THE TOTAL RAIL-WAY MILEAGE OF EUROPE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—Illuminating figures setting forth the extent, amount of business handled, the vast capital invested and the importance of the railway systems of the United States compared with those of other nations are given in today's bulletin issued by the National Geographic society from its Washington headquarters.

With its more than a quarter of a million miles of railroads (237,352) on June 30th, 1915, the United States not only leads every other nation in the world but exceeds by 50,000 miles the total railway mileage of Europe. In fact, it has two-thirds as much mileage as all the rest of the world combined. The length of tracks, including switches and sidings, reaches the enormous total of 291,000 miles—enough to reach from the earth to the moon and with a surplus sufficient to girdle the globe six times. Over these tracks, 65,000 locomotives are operated, drawing 2,327,000 cars. If all these cars were converted into grain carriers and sidings, reaching the disposal of the farmers of the country, the entire 1915 wheat crop of more than a billion bushels could have been moved at once and not employed more than one-third the total tonnage cap-

PRINCETON IN LEAD

UNIVERSITY IS WELL REPRESENTED IN TRAINING CAMPS, NAVAL CRUISE AND AT BORDER

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 28.—The military preparedness cause is receiving tremendous support from Princeton university students and alumni this summer, according to figures learned here today. Practically fifteen per cent. of the entire student body have thus far been enrolled in this year's military training camps and this number is three times greater proportionally than that of any other of the country's large colleges. Harvard's percentage ranks second and Yale's third, with Cornell, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and Williams showing much smaller enrollments. The figures are revised to the present week.

In addition to sending large delegations to the training camps, Princeton is well represented on the naval practice cruise and several hundred men are in service on the Mexican border. The Princeton total of students in training camps is 250, compared with Harvard's 432 and Yale's 137, but the percentage, due to Princeton's smaller total list, is 15 per cent. for Princeton, compared with about five per cent. for Harvard and four per cent. for Yale. The total students and alumni is Harvard 1545, Yale 902, Princeton 706, Cornell 615, Columbia 513, Pennsylvania 209, Williams 350 and Dartmouth 225. There have thus far been 9532 college men enrolled in the training camps of the country.

The full table of statistics, which has not hitherto been made public, follows:

TWO EASY GAMES

Worcester Had No Trouble Winning From Lowell Saturday

Lowell was outplayed by Worcester in both games of the double header and a fair sized Saturday crowd once more saw the home team go down in defeat twice in a single afternoon. The scores were 7 to 3 and 4 to 1.

Lowell never held the lead in either of the games. Failure to hit in the pinches was largely responsible for the defeats as the locals had several opportunities to score runs with a timely hit.

Matty Zieser is credited with the loss of both games. A base on balls, five hits and two hit by pitched balls gave the Worcester boys four runs in the first inning or enough to win the game. Then Lohman relieved him. Van Dyke, as usual, was effective against Lowell.

In the second game Zieser was found for four hits but twice he walked the first man to face him in an inning and two runs were thus scored, flooring, who started for the visitors, blew up in the fifth inning and was supplanted by McGintley, who secured a victory over Lowell Friday. The score:

BRICKLEY'S FAMOUS TOE HURT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 29.—The famous toe of Charley Brickley, the former Harvard football star, was hurt yesterday when his automobile met in collision with another driven by a woman and containing several women and children.

Brickley's foot was cut in the collision, but after the injury was dressed, Brickley said that no permanent damage had been sustained. The accident occurred at Middaughin, a shore resort near here.

There were contests with numerous entries in each one and plenty of excitement prevailed.

The results were as follows:
Two mile bicycle race—Won by Albert Nebes, second, B. Niles, third, William Armstrong. Time, 5 min. 2 seconds.

Three mile steeplechase—Won by Contant, second, James C. A., third, Albert Nebes. Joe Christo also entered this race but dropped out on the second mile. Time, 9 min. 21 seconds.

Members running race, 1/4 of a mile—Won by Alfred Armstrong; second, Fred Chapman; third, David Bruce. Time, 1 min. 4 seconds.

200 yard boys race—Won by W. Armstrong; second, Charles Bowrey. 100 yard race for boys—Won by Miss Tilly Brooks; second, Miss Shaw.

50 yard race for married women—Won by Mrs. Cyrus Mannel; second, Mrs. Minnie Hoar.

BURKETT MAKES A NOISE

Releases Catcher Kilhullen and Shortstop O'Connell as a Warning to Others—Close Race

Manager Jesse Burkett, who took over the reins of the Lowell club last Wednesday, has started the shift that he announced was bound to come unless the players showed more life under his management. Joe Kilhullen, deposed manager, and Ralph O'Connell, former St. Louis American and New London shortstop, have been informed that their services are no longer required with the local club. Other changes will be made while the team is away this week unless more satisfactory results are shown, says Manager Burkett.

The new manager's first analysis of the team gave him the opinion that there were a couple of men on the team who lacked the necessary "pep" to keep the younger players going. He said he had lined out for new men whom he believed would give better team work. Joe Egan, a former Springfield catcher, is the first to report and he caught the second game Saturday.

While with Springfield Egan was used as a second string catcher and batted for about 330. He will undoubtedly go practically all the catching as the release of Shortstop O'Connell has made a vacancy in the infield which Snubber Greenhalge will probably have to fill. Today Manager Burkett intends to play Greenhalge at second. Helfrich at third and Dee at shortstop.

Joe Kilhullen will not be long out of a job if he desires to finish the season. Although his work behind the bat in recent games may have been affected by the burden of the managerial duties which he has shouldered, he is one of the league's star backstops. Kilhullen at present is the best batting catcher in the league and his work behind the bat was always of a high order.

Ralph O'Connell is not so well known here. He came from New London and had only played a day or two when he was spiked and had to retire for a couple of weeks. He had hardly got going right when he sustained another injury at Spaulding park and was once more placed on the hospital list. He is not hitting much over .200.

A Great Race

Today Portland and New London stand tie for first honors in what promises to be a great race. Each team has won 71 and lost 30 games, a remarkable record. Portland seems to have a shade on the Planners although it is sure that not more than three or four games will separate the two teams during the remainder of the season. Both teams play second division clubs all this week and then meet in two games on Labor day. These games will be the most important of the season and should have a bearing on the winning of the pennant.

John McLaughlin of the U. S. Cartage company is soon to leave that plant and seek fame within the "squared circle" in a short time. According to his record, he has boxed many prominent boxers now before the public and was there at the finish with them, all of which speaks well for the local man. McLaughlin has boxed throughout the middle western states. He has also appeared in New York rings and has shown well in all his Gotham starts.

He is under the management of Geo. Rivaral, who says his protege is open to meet any 130-135 pound brawler in the country. Rivaral avers that he will fight the country with his boxer, meeting all comers.

THE RED SOX ARE:
5 Games ahead of Detroit.
5 1/2 Games ahead of Chicago.
6 Games ahead of New York.
6 Games ahead of Cleveland.
6 Games ahead of St. Louis.

THE BRAVES ARE:
2 1/2 Games behind Brooklyn.
2 1/2 Games ahead of Philadelphia.

LOWELL MAN IN RACE

FRANK MURPHY ASSISTS MISS KERSHAW IN REVERE-NAHANAT SWIM

Frank Murphy, the Lowell swimmer, proved himself a successful pilot yesterday, when he directed Miss Ethel Kershaw of Beachmont in her swim from Revere to Nahant and back in two hours and twenty minutes. The young lady also had a narrow escape from drowning, but was saved by the Lowell swimmer.

There were 14 in the race and upon nearing Nahant two had succeeded in getting by before the boat came in. Just as the steamer was nearing the landing Miss Kershaw came along, and when the boat turned to back in the swell was so strong that it carried the girl down. Murphy quickly saw her plight and rushed to her assistance. He succeeded in pulling her out of danger, and despite her narrow escape the young swimmer did not give up, but continued on her grind and reached her destination in two hours and twenty minutes. Two others besides Murphy and Miss Kershaw finished. Duffy, a male swimmer, was the first to cover the distance, his time being one hour and fifty-eight minutes.

A young man named Clark of the L. street bath house, gave a great exhibition during the swim and would have undoubtedly won out had he not been seized with cramps. He was way ahead of all others at the time he was obliged to give up. After the race Clark challenged Miss Kershaw to a swim from Revere to Nahant next Sunday and the Beachmont girl accepted. The match will be for a purse of $25 and the girl will be accompanied by Murphy of Lowell as in her swim yesterday.

BELLEVUES DEFEATED

Saturday's game between the Pitts' South Ends and the Bellevues did not develop into the close contest that was expected, judging from the result of the first meeting of these teams. In the first inning the South common boys fell on Pitcher Levine for six runs and they did not use Lawson, who replaced him, much better. Devlin and Scott, the South End pitchers, were both effective. The score was 12 to 2. Besides the pitching, the hitting of Bellevue with a home run, two base hits and a single featured. Lyons drove out a two bagger and two singles.

ALL STARS WON AGAIN

With Herb Mulno, the former Lowell high school pitcher, in fine form, the All Stars played the M.S.I. team of Tewksbury off its feet in that town Saturday afternoon. Ed Gendreau did the catching. Mulno allowed but three hits while the All Stars slugged the ball at will and piled up 11 runs. Rogers pitched for the M.S.I. team and Bidwell was on the receiving end. The batting of Mulno and Ecklund featured.

YERKES YET TO MAKE ERROR
ATLANTA, Aug. 28.—Steve Yerkes, second baseman for the Atlanta team and former American and Federal league player, has accepted 111 chances in 22 games without an error.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Not one of the Lowell players is hitting the ball in the pinches.

Five of the games scheduled between Lowell and Lawrence remain unplayed owing to the rain.

Hugh Duffy is using a young pitcher named Penfold, who did excellent work with the Winthrop team of the Maine trolley league this year.

Worcester made 30 hits in the 25 innings played here Friday and Saturday. The chief trouble is with the pitchers.

Zeke Lohman made his first appearance in uniform since his recent illness. He was called in the game and the first inning when Zieser was knocked from the box, but he did not work very hard.

Greenhalge's throwing to second was better than would be expected of a man that had played second base so long. At second Snubber throws them under-hand and every other way, but he still pegs to that station in good shape when being used behind the bat.

Burkett showed that there was something in the wind Saturday afternoon when he yelled to Kilhullen, who was sitting on the bench while Egan was putting on his guards and Zieser was being warmed up: "Get out and do some work, Kil. If you don't want to stay here say so."

Helfrich will receive a new bat from the sporting department of Dickerman & McQuade's store as a result of his homer over the left field fence. The clout came with none on bases. Immediately afterward Torphy and Greenhalge singled, but died on the sacks.

Burkett today started his first trip as manager of the Lowell team and he predicted that it would be the best trip since the early part of the season. Three games will be played in Portland, the team will lay off Thursday and finish up Friday and Saturday with games in Worcester and Lynn.

Jack O'Hara, the new Lawrence manager, is quoted as saying that he will return to that city next year, although he does not look for a continuance of the Eastern League. He is already making inquiries about the Glen Forest grounds as he feels the rental of Riverside park is too high. It is $2200 a year.

Andrew P. Roach, owner of the Lowell club, says that he will retire at the close of the present season. He has had enough of baseball. When Andy Roach goes the Lowell fans will miss a good man, while baseball will lose one who has been a credit to the sport in every way.—Lawrence Tribune.

ANCE CORPORATION, Ltd., which carries insurance for the mills.

The committee found that the deceased left a widow and four children in Arco; that the widow partially supported herself by means of embroidery, but during the year preceding his death the man had sent her $178.64. She was accordingly determined to have been partially dependent upon him for support.

His wages at the time of his death were $8.64 per week, and a total dependent would have been entitled to receive two-thirds of this amount or $5.76; because she was only partially dependent, the law requires that she be allowed only the same proportion of this amount as she received of her husband's total wages, and this sum the committee figured to be $2.23 per week.

The board has accordingly ordered that this sum be paid to her each week for a period of five hundred weeks. HOYT.

CHARLES CHASE CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Other Cases

Charles R. Chase, of Newbury, Mass., was brought before Judge Enright this morning on a complaint charging him with manslaughter. Through his counsel, Ernest Foss, of Newburyport, he waived the reading of the complaint, entered a plea of not guilty and was held under $1000 bonds for his appearance in the local court on Sept. 20.

TEWKSBURY ENTERS SUIT

Claims Inmate of Poor Farm Entitled to Share in $1,500,000 Estate of Ann Holland

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., August 28.—Contending that William P. Grinnell, an inmate of its poor farm, was entitled to a share in the $1,500,000 estate of the late Sylvia Ann Howland, which was realized by the death recently of Mrs. Hetty Green, the town of Tewksbury today filed in the superior court here a bill in equity to establish its claim against Grinnell for nine years of shelter and food. Judge Fox granted its petition for a temporary injunction restraining Grinnell's receipt or disposal of the property, and arranged for a hearing next Friday. Colonel Edward H. R. Green of Terrell, Texas, son of Mrs. Green, Henry B. Day of Boston, and Oliver Prescott of New Bedford, trustees of the will, are joined as defendants in the proceedings with Grinnell.

Grinnell, who is 75 years old, has been an inmate of the almshouse at Tewksbury since 1904, except for three years during which he was maintained in a hotel store at Lawrence. He has been continuously since 1910, performing only light chores. A relative in Paris has kept him supplied with funds for modest wants not supplied by the town, according to officials at the almshouse. Grinnell has discussed several times with members of the board of selectmen the prospect of his obtaining money through the Howland will. He has asserted, and officials have verified, it is understood, a claim that he is a lineal descendant of Gideon Howland of New Bedford, grandfather of the testator who provided that all his lineal descendants should share in her estate.

It has estimated by Colonel Green that there are more than 17,000 descendants in different generations now alive. There are five groups of so-called Grinnell heirs, most of whom are people of wealth according to genealogical data gathered by the trustees. Town officials assert there is reason to believe that the almshouse inmate is entitled to more than $20,000 from the estate.

VISITED THE HOTELS

SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE
FOUND EVERYTHING ALL RIGHT
IN LOCAL HOSTELRIES.

There was at least one man in Lowell who called at all of the hotels in Lowell last night and that man was Lowell's superintendent of police, Redmond Welch. So much had been said editorially and verbally about the alleged "wide open" condition obtaining in Lowell and the abuse of the liquor business, the superintendent decided to see for himself and just for that he made a tour of the hotels, unattended and unannounced.

Asked today how he found conditions in the hotels, the superintendent said: "I did not find any cause for complaint and I visited all of the hotels. There were some instances of drunkenness, where rooms were a little crowded, but I did not see any drunkenness and neither did I see any man drinking who did not have food of some kind in front of him. I saw nothing of which to complain."

The superintendent started out at 9.30 and finished his series of visits at 11.15.

FOURTEEN EUROPEAN NATIONS NOW AT WAR

Italy and Rumania Rush to Side of Entente Powers—Former Declares War on Germany and Latter Announces State of War With Austria-Hungary—Germany Declares War on Rumania—Demonstration in Greece

BERLIN, August 28, via London, 7.05.—Germany has declared war on Rumania.

Rumania has entered the war with the entente allies. Official announcement is made at Berlin that the existence of a state of war with Austria-Hungary was proclaimed in Bucharest yesterday evening. Italy yesterday declared war on Germany.
No indications have been received thus far of the immediate effect on the military situation in the Balkans, which now becomes of preponderant importance, or of the moves doubtless already inaugurated by Rumania and her opponent, which has been making preparations for this eventuality.
It is to be expected Rumania will follow a plan of campaign mapped out by the high council of the entente powers, whether against Austria-Hungary or Bulgaria or both. An indication that Rumania moved in accordance with a predominated plan of the entente allies is found in the fact that her declaration of war was made on the same day as Italy's declaration against Germany.

The official announcement from Berlin states that on receipt of news of Rumania's action, the federal council was called for an immediate session.
This may forecast a declaration of war by Germany against Rumania.
The constitution of the German empire stipulates that the emperor may declare war if defensive, but when war is not merely defensive he must have the consent of the Bundesrath federal council.

Demonstration in Greece

Despatches from Athens indicate that popular feeling is stirred deeply by occupation of Greek territory by Bulgarian forces, although this move was sanctioned by the Greek government. Fifty thousand Greeks joined in a popular demonstration yesterday before the residence of former Premier Venizelos, an ardent supporter of the entente allies. The former premier urged that a committee be sent to King Constantine to warn him not to use his influence in the forthcoming
general elections, because the results would be "destructive" and to request him to give the present government, which favors neutrality, full political authority, at the same time preparing the army for "a possible rupture of existing conditions."

Little information is released by the censors in regard to the campaign on the Macedonian front.

Bulgarians Gaining

The Bulgarians, claiming consistent gains on the western end of the line, are lengthening the front and pushing into Albania. An official announcement made in London today refers only to scattered artillery actions.

Bad weather is interfering with operations on the Somme front. Before Verdun the Germans returned to the attack last night. Paris reports that several assaults on French positions at Fleury, northeast of Verdun, were repulsed.

Rumanians in Battle

Rumania's declaration of war against Austria was followed swiftly by military action. The official German announcement of today indicates that a new campaign, along the Hungarian-Rumanian frontier, is under way. The statement says Rumanians have been taken prisoners on the frontier.

GERMAN PAPERS COMMENT ON ITALY'S DECLARATION OF WAR

BERLIN, Aug. 28, via London.—Virtually all the morning papers, with the notable exception of the Vorwarts, comment on Italy's declaration of war against Germany.
The Deutsche Tages Zeitung declared that interest in such a declaration always has been exceptionally small in Germany and now, without question, will continue so.

The Morgen Post calls Italy's action an empty gesture intended to appear heroic but actually tragic-comical and to be received with an indiferent shrug of the shoulders.

The Kreuz Zeitung says Italy finally has given way to the pressure of "its master." The Post says it is only another evidence of Italy's "blackmail politics."

CONTINGENT OF ITALIAN TROOPS
LANDS AT ALBANIAN
SEAPORT

ATHENS, Aug. 27, via London. Aug.
28.—The landing of the first contingent of Italian troops at Chimara (a small seaport of Albania, on the strait of Otranto) causes gloom throughout all Greece. The Greeks now see not only eastern Macedonia in the hands of the Bulgars, whom they expelled from there three years ago, but northern Epirus in the hands of the Italians.

Following the landing of the Italian troops, the Greek civil officers were

TRAFFIC SLIGHTLY DELAYED

There was a slight delay in railroad traffic over the Boston & Maine railroad about nine o'clock this morning when the driver on an engine broke at the station, near the Wamesit station. Another engine was on the scene a short time after the accident and the train
was brought into the Middlesex street station. Several of the passengers who were in a hurry to keep appointments left the train and came to Lowell by electric car.

BREAK IN COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—There was a
break of nearly $3 a bale in the cotton market today. Owing to early strength in Liverpool, which private cables attributed to an advance in the market
for the Egyptian staple and to a scarcity by trade shorts, the market
here opened 10 to 16 points higher,
with all positions making new high records. Just before the close, however, a general selling became more urgent and prices suddenly collapsed with some months selling off
nearly a cent a pound and the market
here broke sharply.

There was enough buying on the bullish view of demand and supply prospects to act as a break on the decline, which caused frequent rallies, but the selling became even more urgent and general in the afternoon with December contracts breaking to 15.40 or 30 points under last Saturday's closing figures and not less than $2.70 under the high point of the morning.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President
Wilson's plan for breaking the deadlock between railroads and their employes as discussed today was as follows:
An eight-hour law for railroads to become effective at a date far enough in the future to give the railroads opportunity to prepare for it.

A law patterned after the Canadian act which creates a commission of investigation.

street and two friends who were to start on an extended trip to the British Isles, have abandoned the

to sail the last week of this month,
but they were informed by the Murphy Ticket Agency that no American citizens can obtain a passport to land on British soil unless he is able to give urgent reasons, and as their trip was to be one of pleasure they decided to postpone the voyage until after the war.

time after the accident and the train
was brought into the Middlesex street

who were in a hurry to keep appointments left the train and came
to Lowell by electric car.

BREAK IN COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—There was a
break of nearly $3 a bale in the cotton
market today. Owing to early strength
in Liverpool, which private cables attributed to an advance in the market
for the Egyptian staple and to a scar-
city by trade shorts, the market
here opened 10 to 16 points higher,
with all positions making new high
records. Just before the close, however, a general selling became more
urgent and prices suddenly collapsed with some months selling off
nearly a cent a pound and the market
here broke sharply.

FORCED TO EAT GARBAGE CAPTURED BY VILLISTAS

RUSSIANS SAID TO BE STARVING IN GERMAN PRISON CAMPS—2000 PRISON CAMPS

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Stories of suffering and illness among Russian prisoners of war in German detention camps, said to be due to lack of sufficient food, were told by C. Oberoutcheff, secretary of the central committee organized in Switzerland for the relief of Russian prisoners. In a statement given out here today through Alice Stone Blackwell, editor of the Woman's magazine.

Prisoners of all nationalities receive the same food, but the British, French and Belgian soldiers fare better, according to Mr. Oberoutcheff, because of the packages they frequently receive from home. They are forbidden, however, to situate these extra food with their less fortunate associates and, as a result, the Russians often eat garbage thrown out by the camp kitchens, the statement declares.

Information as to the condition of the Russians came first through delegates to the International Red Cross commission who had visited the prison camps and later was verified by personal talks with exchanged prisoners, according to Mr. Oberoutcheff.

"The daily ration of the prisoners is very scanty," he said, "in the morning they are given coffee without milk or sugar and 200 grams of potatoes to bread to last them the entire day. At noon they receive a small quantity of soup, some vegetables and sometimes, but not often, a piece of meat. Supper is much the same. It is clear that the prisoners must go hungry."

"The English, French and Belgian prisoners often receive supplies of food from their governments, relatives, societies, or relatives of friends, but it is not so with the Russians. For instance, in one camp, each of the French prisoners of war got 12-pound packages every week, while Russian prisoners got only one package apiece in the course of two months and a half. Russian prisoners often beg help, not only from their own kind, but from the prisoners of other nationalities. Many of these would be glad to give, but it is forbidden. "The hungry Russians, however, take their soup plates to the French and beg for their leftovers, and get them. Driven to desperation they sometimes even search the garbage and devour what they find and then they can possibly be eaten. We have heard of this from English and French prisoners who saw it and I have been told of it by Russians who have actually been obliged to do it."

Of 2000 or more prison camps in Germany and Austria only about 400 are receiving help from relief committees, Mr. Oberoutcheff declares.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR

BUTLER VETS WILL ATTEND ANNUAL MUSTER TO BE HELD AT PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Over 75 members of the General Butler Veteran Firemen's association of this city will attend the 26th annual Firemen's muster of the New England States Veteran Firemen's league to be held in Providence, R. I., next Thursday. This year's affair will be one of the largest of its kind ever held. It has been endorsed by the Providence chamber of commerce and is being held in connection with the 4th annual convention of International Association of Fire Engineers.

With the features that always attend the fire chiefs' conventions and the extensive muster program, more attractions will be found for firemen in Providence Thursday than ever before in the history of the New England States Veteran Firemen's league. James H. Walker of this city is president of the Butler Vets, as the organization is generally known, and Cornelius F. Griffin will act as foreman of the men in charge of the muster. Of course, the old "City of Lowell" hand tub is entered in the spouting contest and judging from recent try-outs it will give the other tubs a good run for their money. Prior to the shipping of the "City of Lowell" it was worked out on the North common and each time a stream of more than 200 feet was sent out which is considered very good. There are four prizes for the playout as follows: First, $200; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. Thirty tubs are entered in the contest.

Another big feature is the parade to take place on the same day. There will be 30 associations in line and each one will be headed by its tub. The parade will be reviewed by the largest number of the fire chiefs ever assembled at a similar event. Among the attractions in this parade will be the first hand tub ever made.

On account of the fire engineers' convention when demonstrations will be given by some of the modern fire apparatus, a special playout has been arranged for motorized fire apparatus with prizes for the winners. In the Providence state armory, claimed by the committee to be the largest hall in New England, an exhibition of fire apparatus and equipment that will compare with any of its kind ever staged will be given.

The Lowell men will leave this city Thursday morning on the 5:57 train for Boston where they will board the special train for Providence. Any Lowell people desiring to make the trip with the Butler Vets will be welcome.

Misses Clemence Starn and Bernadette Fontaine rendered pleasing duets, while Miss Blanche Jodoin presided at the organ. At the close of the ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride in Emmet street, where a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families. Water Department Busy
The water department has started work on the extension of several water mains in the city. At present men are employed on extending the main in Farmland road about 300 feet; extending the main in Woburn street about 500 feet, while the Bleachers street main which runs over the land of the Lowell Bleachery Co. is being removed and placed in the street. Six men of the department are also at work on main extensions and changes in the yard of the Lowell Bleachery Co., but they are being paid by the company. Work on the Oakland main extension is progressing rapidly; the main having been extended as far as Fairmount sewer. There remains about 1 mile of extension to be done.

Sewers and Streets
It is expected if the weather does not interfere that the paving of Dutton street will be completed as far as Fletcher street by Thursday evening. Mr. Morse stated this morning that he is now being handicapped by the Bay State Street Railway Co. in Fletcher and Thorndike streets. No paving can be done until the rails of the company are changed over and there is a delay because of the fact that special trons are needed for those two streets and the foundry is rather slow in getting them out.

The Bowers street sewer extension, which was started last Friday, is nearing completion and it is expected that within two or three days the Bowers street gang will be shifted over to the sewer to drain the munition plant in Warrenville. Mr. Morse anticipates this last job will be a big one inasmuch as about 1200 feet of sewer pipe will be laid. The Woburn street sewer, about 1000 feet long, will be completed about the middle of the week.

Chelmsford Street Hospital
The best fodder corn ever seen in the vicinity of Lowell for a long time can be seen in the fields of the Chelmsford Street hospital and Supt. Conley stated this morning that farmers in the immediate vicinity are astonished over the crop. The corn will be left on the field until the middle of September, but it is anticipated that difficulty will be experienced in securing help for farm work. The inmates at the hospital today number 320, but there is not one among the men who is fit to work on the farm.

Hearings This Evening
Commissioner Morse has no less than 14 hearings to preside over this evening. The hearings which will be held in the alderman chamber at 5 o'clock, have to do with petitions for streets, sewers, sidewalks, etc.

The mayor informed Mrs. White, he would place the aldermanic chamber at the disposal of the lecturer.

Those New Firemen
Commissioner Putnam informed The Sun reporter this morning that at the next meeting of the municipal council which will be on Sept. 5, unless a special meeting is called in the meantime, he will again ask for the transfer of the $3500 for an automobile chassis to the regular fire department appropriation for the purpose of appointing five or six new firemen. The commissioner said he has, as requested by the council, taken an account of the stock on hand in the department as well as how much has been expended since the first of the year and he finds that on Aug. 1 he had a balance on hand of $18,354.47. The payroll for the remainder of the year will amount to $71,069.54, leaving a balance of $7,283.93. Basing his estimate on the money expended last year the commissioner expects to expend from now until the end of the year for miscellaneous and incidental that may come up the sum of $5,250.25, and if the expenditures of the commissioner come true, he will not have enough money out of the regular appropriation to carry his department to the end of the year. Mr. Putnam will argue with the council that additional firemen are badly needed and that he can see no way out of it except by transferring the $3500.

Conley stated this morning that farmers in the immediate vicinity are astonished over the crop. The corn will be left on the field until the middle of September, but it is anticipated that difficulty will be experienced in securing help for farm work. The inmates at the hospital today number 320, but there is not one among the men who is fit to work on the farm.

MESSAGE FOR ALL AFFLICTED PEOPLE

Rev. Thomas F. Foster, Evangelist, Says Plant Juice Acted Like a Charm

Daily we see peculiar names flaring out from bill boards and electric signs. The idea is to cause inquiry, create interest, and in many cases, so inspire curiosity, so as to raise a false idea as to the true worth of the object in question. This is so of various preparations, soaps, proprietary medicines, beverages, and other articles sold by advertising. Among the few popular articles now before the public, which make any effort to indicate the nature of the object named, is Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy. The name "Plant Juice" instantly informs one of the true nature of the remedy. It is the juices of Plants—the extracts from medicinal herbs, and this is one of the outstanding reasons why Plant Juice has taken such a hold on the American public.

Since its introduction here, many testimonials are daily received, telling of the great benefits derived. One of the most recent is that of the noted Evangelist, Rev. Thomas F. Foster, who resides at No. 65 Franklin Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, and whose fame has spread throughout the United States on account of his brilliancy and good work in the Evangelistic field. He writes:

"In making my statement as to the benefit derived from the use of Plant Juice, I want to say, for the benefit of others, that I am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering from stomach trouble. It is certainly a charm, and it has been more to me than I could have reasonably expected, considering the little bit of relief I had experienced from good physicians, and one of our expert stomach specialists, who is considered among the best. I thank you for the benefit of Plant Juice."

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, the Druggist, Merrimack Square, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

WRONG PICTURES

Rev. E. H. Newcomb Condemns Certain Types of Moving Pictures

At the union services of the Congregational churches of the city held in the First Congregational church, Sunday morning, the preacher, Rev. E. H. Newcomb, took for his sermon subject the motion picture, "Where Are My Children?" He questioned the sincerity of its presentation and the propriety of presenting any such subject in a public gathering place. He said in part:

world where you, as a boy, or you, as a girl, get certain information. It makes all the difference what the purpose is of giving out certain information. If an elder boy or an older girl tells it, and tells it merely with the idea of shocking, or uncovering something which had not been dreamt of before, then it is wrong, dead wrong.

But if it is done with the honest intent of setting you on the right path through knowledge then we should thank the one who tells us.

"During the week there will probably go many thousands to see this subject treated. Some of you, I believe, will go, and you will come out with blushes on your cheeks, and you will urge friends to go because you will be made to believe that it's something which ought to be seen.

"Smashing—dashing—thrilling—shocking" it is described as being. Yes these are the things that took Rome down to her destruction—the shocks, the dashes, the smashes, the thrills—and those same kind of things will take everybody down who goes to experience them. What the liquor saloons do for the appetite, the theatres do for the passions.

"We are told that New England is feverish over the exhibition of these pictures, but I do not imagine that it is all a healthy fever. They are coming thick and fast in Lowell.

"Did you read the address of Cardinal O'Donnell a few days ago—a powerful address from the standpoint of the Roman Catholic? Clearly he set forth what eminent Protestant clergymen had said. He said that he would quote their words, and their words alone, to the effect that the Protestant churches are not half filled today, that there is an apparent lack of interest in the teaching of the Protestant church, and that the Protestants seem strangely to lack that steadfastness of faith which had so characterized their fathers of previous generations. He merely quoted statements made by noted Protestants throughout this country.

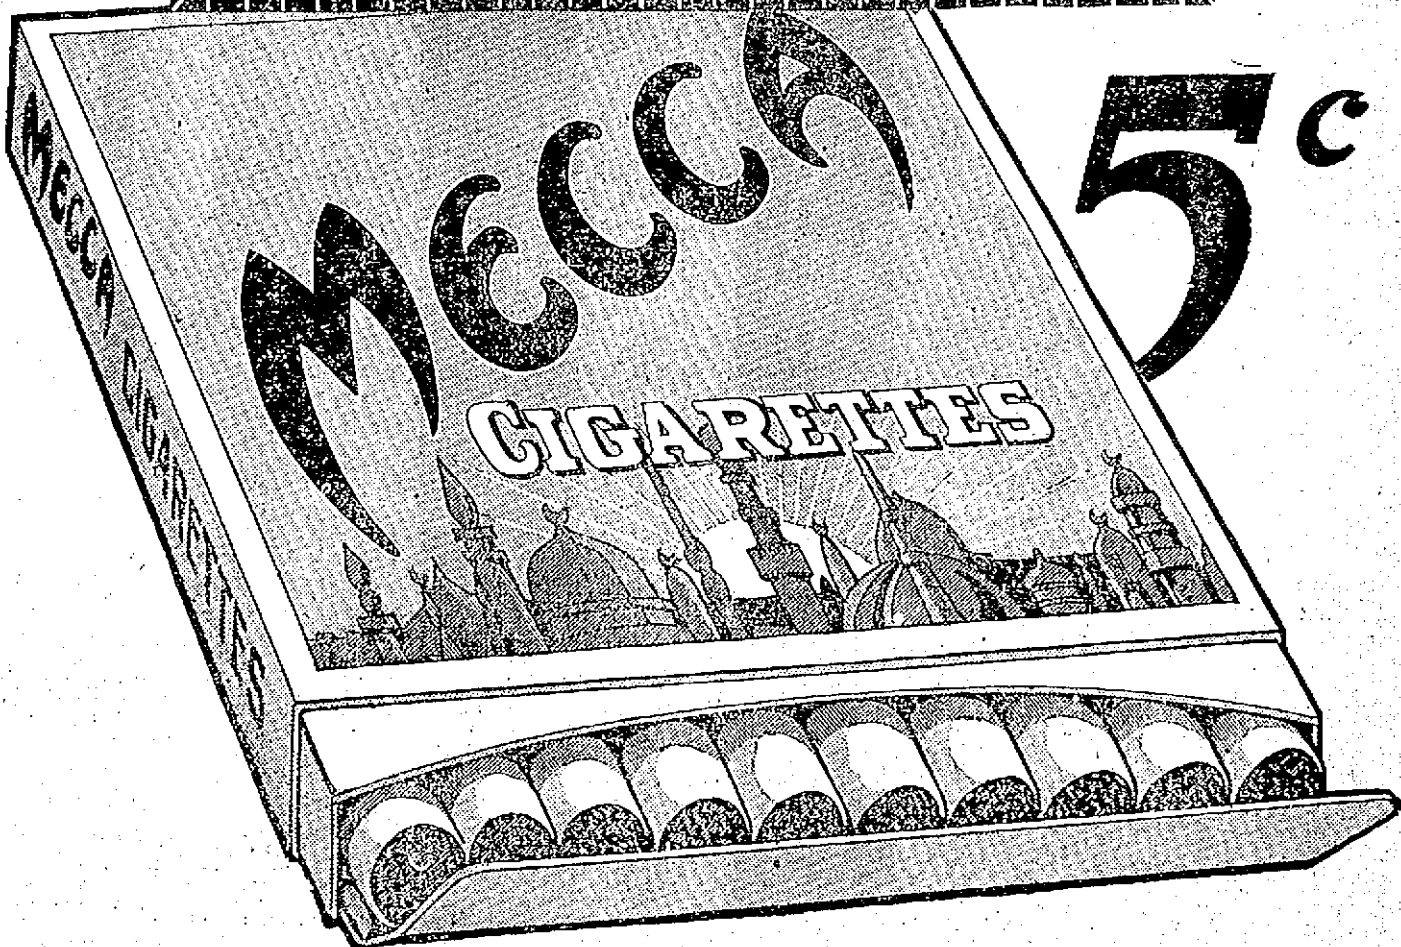

"I have a strong admiration for the archbishop of Chicago who has not only put in force the ban against dancing, but who has forbidden the priests of his diocese from attending any theatres, because the tendency of the theatre is downward, and he wishes them to set good examples for their parishioners by rigidly absenting themselves from such places.

"Yes, may we well ask 'Where are my children?' Where are they? What of the thousands who today are on our streets, at our resorts, here and there, but not in the church of God? They have wandered away, they are not spiritually re-born, and except they become re-born then they cannot enter the kingdom of heaven. God, through the ages, has asked that question, 'Where are my children?' and because he has asked it I feel it a fit subject to discuss. Through God's teachings and his church may those things in life which should be dealt with in a spirit of delicacy and strength be taught, and not otherwise. I am firmly convinced."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Chairman Wilcox of the republican national committee, in a broadside at the democratic administration yesterday, charged President Wilson with repudiating a government contract with bankers who promised to participate in the Chinese "Six-Power loan."

President Wilson's unwillingness to state in writing a position which he voluntarily assumed, because it is a radical reversal of a position which he assumed early in his administration, constitutes a grave menace to the foreign trade of the United States, especially in China, is the charge made.

EAGLES HELD OUTING

NOTE HUNTS SUICIDE FACT
WAKEFIELD, Aug. 28.—The finding of a note indicating a possible double suicide caused the police of Saugus and this town to make a thorough search yesterday along the shores of Wakesau pond in the game reservation of the Breakheart Hill Forestry association. A large area of wooded land lying between here and Saugus. Nothing in the nature of clothing or bodies was to be seen, and it was decided that the pond should be dragged today.

The note was found by Clarence B. Decatur, a young man who lives in the Greenwood section, as he was walking in the reservation. The note was written on a sheet of plain white paper, and was held firm on a large boarder by a small piece of rock.

It was signed Arthur, and said: "I could not stand it any longer. Forgive me and notify my brother, John E. Martin, St. Oklahoma. Tell him I died with her."

COMMITTEE IN DOUBT

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD NOT SATISFIED THAT SIX-FOOTER WAS AFRAID OF LITTLE MAN

Special to The Sun

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 28.—A six-footer who "beats it" away from a man who has to stretch in order to reach five feet, after the little man has decorated his larger playmate with jelly from his lunch basket, and who later has his hand cut because he permits the little fellow to knock a bottle out of his hand, need expect little sympathy from the industrial accident board, even though the little fellow is pesterous and always looking for a fight.

Jeremiah Begley of Chicopee, formerly employed by the Flak Rubber company in that city, asked the board recently to rule that he was entitled to compensation because of an injury which he received March 22 last. He testified that he was eating his dinner that day when one Rivers, another employe, threw a handful of jelly all over him. He testified that Rivers was always arguing with him and looking for a fight, and although they had been friends for a year he was in constant fear that Rivers would "beat him up." Accordingly, when the jelly landed, Begley took to his heels; a little later he was walking down the aisle with an empty tea bottle in his hand, intending to return it to his lunch basket, when Rivers attempted to knock it out of his hand, breaking the bottle and cutting the hand.

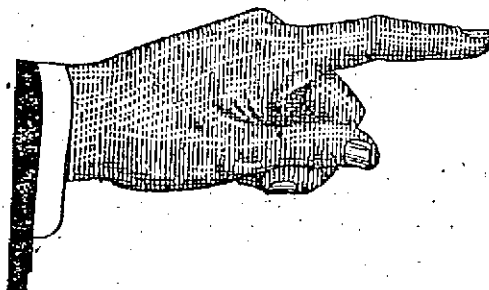

The arbitration committee organized by the board to investigate the matter, of which Frank J. Donahue, chairman of the board, was chairman, found that "if Rivers was such a person as he was represented to be, and if the company, having knowledge of his quarrelsome disposition and beligerent tendencies, continued him in its employ, it would constitute his presence in its shop one of the risks of employment there, so that an attack by him upon Begley could be found to be a natural result of the employment of a peaceable workman in company with a quarrelsome, fight-seeking, trouble-maker."

"In its report, however, the committee states that it is 'unable to picture the claimant, over six feet in height and constructed altogether like a fighting-man, 'beating it' when attacked by his 'friend' Rivers, who stopped growing before he achieved five feet. We saw Mr. Begley and heard him. For him we say that we do not believe he would flee from anybody.' Mr. Rivers may have been an extremely pestiferous person. To be decorated with jelly is not as conducive to enjoyment in the decorated as it may be to mirth in the decorator. Looking backward, it may appear funny, but it is within the bounds of prudence to say that very likely Mr. Begley was visibly annoyed at the time. As we saw and heard him, we should expect him to be a somewhat aggressive person when annoyed. We mistrust the destination which he intended for that empty bottle which he heaved down the aisle with and which, he says, was going to put back in his lunch basket. Mr. Begley may be as unusual a man as his testimony makes him out to be, but certainly it is unusual to eat one's dinner at a distance from one's lunch basket."

Later on, when Mr. Begley calmly reviewed the circumstances surrounding his injury and disability, we believe that he will thank this committee for refusing to blot his family name by finding that the little Rivers was always the aggressor and that he, six-foot Begley, was always engaged in ignominious retreat."

Assortment of Cases

Judge Enright, who has been away for several weeks, had a big assortment of cases to handle. It was a sort of old home day for there was a gathering of many old timers who were no strangers in the court room. For instance there was one man who made his 64th appearance, another was in for the 41st time, one for the 35th and others who did not have such long records.

Saturday night and Sunday 35 drunken offenders were arrested and of that number 17 were released by the probation officer.

Six offenders were each sentenced to three months in jail, one was given a direct sentence to the state farm, and another who was on parole will be returned to that institution. Several offenders received suspended sentences, while others were fined. Austin Gillay, who has appeared in court on several occasions, but who always promises to never return was given 21 hours in which to leave the city and in the event of his failing to do so he will be sent to the house of correction for six months.

Maintaining Gaming Nuisance
Charles Wong was charged with maintaining a gaming nuisance and after the government had produced about seven witnesses and the defense put on three the court found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $50. He appealed and was held for the superior court. George F. Toye appeared for Wong.

Early on the morning of Sunday, Aug. 20, a squad of police headed by Supt. Welch raided a building in John street avenue and arrested 15 men who were charged with being present at a game and also Wong, who it was alleged, conducted the place.

Meat. Freeman, Sergeant Ryan, Inspector Walsh and Patrolman J. H. Clark testified to the conditions they found. During the course of the testimony the witnesses for the government testified how they had watched the building on different occasions and had seen a number of men enter and leave the place. On the morning in question they waited an opportunity to enter, managing to force their way in when two men were being admitted. They claimed that Wong was stationed at the door and when they appeared he pushed a button which sounded a buzzer over a table in the basement of the building. On the table were playing cards, dominoes, dice and other gaming implements were on the table as was $5.20 in money.

Wong said he came from Boston about a month ago and had been working in a laundry in Moody street. He said that the place raided was a club room where men of his race gathered at different times. He said he was not a member of the club, but had been invited to the place on several occasions since coming to the city. He did not know any of the officers of the alleged club and neither did two other men who claimed to be members.

A young man who takes care of the property testified that he collected the rent every month, but that Wong never paid him, although he admitted that he had been paid by different people on several occasions.

The court in summing up the evidence in the case found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $50. He appealed.

Neglected His Wife
Charles Clark, who is well along in years, was married three months ago, but evidently he and his wife did not get along very well, for this morning she had him before the court for non-support. She claimed that he had beaten her and threatened her and failed to give her support. He was asked to pay $1 a week towards her support but said that would be his ship or he did not have steady work when it was learned however that he had $300 in his possession when arrested the court said Clark would either pay $1 a week or go to the house of correction for four months.

Disturbed Campers
William G. Barton of Boston was charged with drunkenness but Officer Hooper of Tewksbury informed the court, as did several other witnesses, that Barton and some other young men who were camping in Tewksbury raised ructions Sunday, disturbing people in the vicinity. The court imposed a fine of $15 and said that he intended to make examples of people from the vicinity of Boston who annoy the campers in the suburban towns.

Assaulted in Saloon
Kyrionian Bowiak was charged with assault and battery on John Gondek. The pair met in a saloon in Centralville Saturday night and the former without any provocation whatsoever hurled a glass at Gondek, which inflicted a gash on the right jaw.

The injured man was taken to an hospital and several stitches were taken in the wound. Bowiak was fined $20.

Continued Cases
Ignatius Snigach was charged with assault and battery on John Kosack but by agreement the case was continued till Sept. 6.

The cases of Mary Rogers and Margaret Tishie, charged with disturbing the peace, were continued till the same date.

WAS AGREEABLY SURPRISED
Miss May Gilligan, who is soon to become a bride, was agreeably surprised at her home, 130 Bowers street, Friday evening, when a number of young ladies from the J. L. Chaffoux Co. called on her and presented her with a beautiful and gorgeous party set. The presentation speech was made by Miss Theresa Dean and Miss Gilligan responded in a neat speech. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable entertainment program carried out.

THE RECRUITING STATION
Recruiting in the office of the local armory has again taken on a dull period after a week of good business when an average of two or more applicants were received each day. The staff of recruiting officers, under the direction of Major Colby T. Klutledge, remained in their quarters all forenoon without a visitor today, however. Young men from Lowell and surrounding towns are not as anxious for a trip to the border as in other parts of the state, according to reports from various armories where recruiting is being done.

CONCERT AT HIGHLAND CLUB
Despite the unfavorable weather last evening, the municipal band concert given at the Highland club by the National band, assisted by the Honey Boy quartet, was largely attended and the large gathering thoroughly enjoyed the program. The band and the singers were located on one of the large piazzas of the clubhouse, while the large attendance sat on the lawn surrounding the building. Each number was fully appreciated.

HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE
MALONE, N. Y., August 28.—The New Windsor hotel at Santa Clara near here, was destroyed by fire early today, and Mrs. Eli Gekey, wife of the proprietor, was burned to death.

ENCOURAGING RESULTS
NEW YORK, August 28.—Encouraging results in the fight against the influenza paralysis epidemic in this city were indicated by the department of health's report for the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m. today. Only 34 new cases were discovered for that period.

DRUG MEN HELD OUTING

About 300 Rexall salesmen, department managers and executive heads of the United Drug company and their wives who attended the annual convention in Boston, yesterday invaded Willow Dale and Lakeview, where they enjoyed an outing with games and sports of all kinds.

The entire party, travelling in about 60 automobiles, arrived at Lake Mascupples shortly before noon after a beautiful ride from Boston, which included visits to many places of interest on the way. The first number on the program was a ball game between the salesmen and the managers, which resulted in a victory for the salesmen by the score of 12 to 6.

Before the ball game, there was a tug-of-war, races, swimming events and other sports, all of which provided great amusement.

The committee in charge was as follows: H. L. Simpson (chairman), Geo. C. Frolich, Samuel Hartford and Samuel Bradshaw, for the sports and games; James De Mottville and A. D. Scoville, for the entertainment features; T. A. Lambert of Texas and John Haig of Florida, refreshments; Edward Loughlin of Syracuse and Fred R. Patterson of Iowa, transportation.

GIRL NURSE KILLED

MISS SYLVIA MATHEWSON STRUCK ON HEAD BY LIMB OF TREE WHEN BIG AUTO SKIDDED

WORCESTER, Aug. 28.—Miss Sylvia Mathewson, 20 years old, a nurse at the Worcester state hospital, was fatally injured in an automobile accident between West Boylston and Sterling, at an early hour yesterday morning, and died a few hours later at the Worcester city hospital from a fractured skull and nervous shock.

Miss Mathewson and two other nurses at the state hospital, Miss Ruth A. Sherman and Miss Elsie R. Morley, were in a large covered touring car driven by Raymond H. Cytus of 19 Lincoln street, East Orange, N. J. Others in the car were Herbert Clarkson of 17 East Battery, Charleston, S. C., and Alfred Lafferier of 125 Franklin street, Worcester.

The car is owned by Charles C. Campbell of 61 Broadway, New York, who is in Worcester on business. Cytus is his chauffeur and Mr. Campbell says the car was taken by Cytus without his permission. He told the police that it was unquestionably a joy ride.

According to the police the big car skidded on the slippery road a short distance from Sterling Inn shortly after midnight and a branch from a big tree overhanging the side of the road protruded through the top and struck Miss Mathewson on the head.

She was treated by a West Boylston doctor and removed to the Worcester hospital.

CARS CRASH IN SUBWAY

MANY PASSENGERS WERE SHAKEN UP WHEN CARS CAME TOGETHER IN BOSTON SUBWAY LAST NIGHT

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Many passengers were shaken up, one seriously, and one woman fainted, when an inbound Ashmont and Milton articulated car crashed into the side of a Newton-Brighton trailer car in the subway.

near the public garden entrance at 11:30 o'clock last night. The Newton-Brighton car, running from the Boylston street subway into the Tremont street subway, was sidings by the Ashmont and Milton car as the latter went down the incline from the entrance at that point. The Newton-Brighton car was driven up against the subway structure and the Ashmont and Milton car left the rails.

The passengers on both cars were forcibly thrown from their seats and were panic stricken. The lights went out and in the semi-darkness there was a wild scramble for the exits.

The car crews restrained the men and women and wouldn't let anybody out, as the automatic doors were kept closed.

When order was restored the passengers were transferred to other cars and taken to the Boylston street station, where one woman was taken home in a taxicab.

THE GREEK COMMUNITY The first election of officers of the Greek community under the new charter will be held in the basement of the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street on Labor Day and 12 directors instead of 21 will be chosen, while the officers such as president, secretary, treasurer, auditors and school committee will be selected by the voters and not by the directors as before. Another important change in the charter is that a recall may be started by 100 voters instead of by two-thirds of the voters.

MOTORCYCLE STRUCK POLE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Guimond of Ash street, Nashua, N. H., were seriously injured Saturday night when their motorcycle crashed into a telephone pole on the Lowell road near the Smith farm. Mrs. Guimond, who was riding in the side car, was the more seriously injured of the two. Both were taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Nashua where they received treatment.

Mr. Guimond, who was operating the motorcycle, turned out for another motorcycle, and before he could bring his machine to a standstill it crashed into the pole. Charles Rogers of 296 Columbus avenue, Boston, found the couple in the road and placing them in his automobile took them to the hospital.

SEVERE STORM

A Motorman Killed at Terryville, Connecticut—Heavy Damage

BRISTOL, Conn., Aug. 28.—A severe electrical storm swept over Central Connecticut last night, causing considerable property loss in this city and neighboring towns. A rainfall that resembled a cloudburst, did $10,000 damage to this city's streets; five barns were struck by lightning and burned; numerous cattle and horses were killed; hundreds of trees were blown down and trolley, electric light and telephone service demoralized in a dozen towns.

In Terryville Thomas O'Keefe, a motorman on a trolley car, was killed when he came in contact with a live feed wire blown down by the wind.

MILL BLOWN UP

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—One of the worst storms this section has experienced in years swept over Troy and portions of Rensselaer county yesterday afternoon.

At Schaghticoke a powder mill was struck by lightning and blown up. No one was injured, but the property damage will amount to thousands of dollars. Nearly every window in the village was broken. Several buildings in the outskirts of Troy were struck and burned. In this city some of the streets were impassable, being filled with water, which overflowed curbs and entered buildings.

BOLT VISITS DOVER FARM

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 28.—In one of the heaviest thunder storms of the season, the barn of Frank Swain, a farmer and market gardener, about one mile out of the city on the Portland turnpike, was struck by lightning and destroyed, yesterday, with all its contents, including two horses, four cows, two heifers, about 20 tons of hay, vehicles, harnesses and farming tools.

The bolt appeared to set fire to all parts of the barn, as it was ablaze all over at once, and it was impossible to try to save any of the live stock. The damage will exceed $2000, with some insurance.

LADY LOOKABOUT

If the little lad had been bigger, half-grown even, I would have been sure that he was a faithful reader of the Saturday Evening Post stories, or of the "Get Out and Get On" series running in one of the magazines, but he was only four, so I was forced to believe that it was Yankee commercialism that had infected him, hyphen and all. None of us knew where he had come from and all questions, no matter how cleverly worded, elicited no information as to his name, and only "down city as to his residence. He was looking for a job."

"Got a job for a feller?" he prattled.

He was asked what he could do.

"Most anything," he answered.

Judging by the way he looked at a nearby apple tree, the job of gathering the fallen fruit made a strong appeal.

"Can you pick up apples?" he was asked.

"Um-m," he returned, his eyes glistening.

He was directed to go to work, but before he began, the eternal question proceeded from the baby lips:

"How much is in it?"

A price was agreed upon, and manfully he began to pick up apples in a little pile. Several moments went by; he did not come to empty the pile. Several more moments passed, and I went out to investigate. There he lay on the grass, a munched apple in his hand, a ragged straw hat near him. He was sound asleep. We carried him to the house and laid him comfortably on a bed.

Instead of crying, he insisted on going back to the tree, filling his pail, and toddling off with his wages clasped in a grimy little hand, headed for the nearest candy store.

School Graduates

The problem which presents itself for solution at this time every year to the parents of children who have graduated from high school, is again facing them and while at this late day, the question has been settled for many, there always is another year coming with its boys and girls whose futures must be planned in regard to further schooling. It is an excellent thing for those who can afford the time and money necessary for a liberal university course before settling down to a specific course. It gives the student time and opportunity to know and gauge his own limitations, many of which he does not suspect when he has just completed his high school course. This little talk is not for boys and girls of that class.

Another fortunate class of graduates is made up of boys and girls who have a strong inclination to a vocation, so strong that they know just what they want to do and how to get about accomplishing their purpose. This little talk is not for that class.

The third class, and by far the largest, is made up of boys and girls who need some help in deciding their future course. This indecision on their part is due to many causes. Principal among them is ignorance, or to use a milder term, lack of information in regard to the lines of endeavor open to the youth of today. This lack of information goes back to the parents, who, through no fault of their own, are unacquainted with the new fields of work opened since they themselves were young. I shall return to this class.

Another class is made up of those so unfortunate as to be cursed (I used the word advisedly), with versatility. These are the persons who are adept at whatever they may turn their hands to. During childhood and early youth they are the joy of their parents and the envy of their schoolmates. As time goes on, however, they join the great class of the commonplace. They still are versatile, but like so many others, Jacks-of-all-trades-yet-masters-of-none. They have attempted many things and in some instances reached the point where much could be done fairly well, yet lacking the finesse of the skilled artisan or the thorough knowledge of their often less brilliant companions. Very often the young pupil of flashing, superficial brilliancy in school, who prides himself on keeping up with his classes without hard study, finds himself in this class. He grows to be the man who is listlessly unconscious of his own shortcomings, and invariably accounts for his lack of the striking success his school days promised, to never having received "a square deal." The adult of this class is a hopeless proposition. The young boy or girl can be trained by patient teaching, in habits of concentration, application and, above all, in completing a given task before beginning another. He must not be permitted to abandon a task once begun until he has entirely finished it, no matter what heartaches and discouragement this course may involve.

To return to the former class, these whose lack of information has shortened their field of vision to their immediate vicinity. These need wise and helpful counsel, and gentle suggestion from those whose knowledge is wider than that of the ordinary child and his parents. Many of this class choose an occupation because it is the least distasteful of many, and not because of any particular love of the calling, and this is the reason we find so many mistakes in the ranks of persons in positions requiring as a first requisite, something more than the ordinary common school education. Girls, more especially than boys, seem to gravitate automatically into this class, and the reason is easily seen. The woman trained in the educational field is a comparatively modern institution. Until within a very short time, few avenues of expression for her ability and training were open to her. In the memory of persons still accounted young, our own city offered little to the self-supporting woman beyond factory work, housework and a few teaching positions. The cause of many mistakes can be understood readily when this condition is appreciated and naturally, for a long time, woman's success in the industrial world was open to question. With the progress of time, however, countless other avenues were opened, and woman's economic value in the business, industrial and scientific world became assured.

Teaching, once the goal of ambition of every mother for her daughter, no longer holds first place in choice of occupation. With the advent of vocational training, household economics is filling a long felt want for girls fitting for work. It offers an opening for those who wish to teach cooking, sewing or household arts; to direct or instruct in domestic science or to instruct in public or private schools, or in colleges; to administer an institution or a household; or to specialize in the study of problems of household economics. A student of this work gains a knowledge of applied science, applied design, and practice in the household arts. Colleges are offering degrees to graduates of these courses, and besides opening a new field for the employment of trained women, it raises to a position of dignity those homely tasks found within the home which, a short time ago, seemed destined only to contempt.

For women who feel inclined to office work, opportunity is offered to prepare for the duties of private secretary, registrar, office assistant, or teacher of commercial subjects. Opportunity is also offered to those who contemplate entering the civil service, or acting as general assistants to persons engaged in scientific, literary or professional pursuits.

For those who prefer technical work which is distinctly cultural, the courses offered in library science are desirable. Students are trained in those duties involved in the administration of a library. This course is especially well fitted for those who seek broad, general and academic training, and at the same time furnishes equipment for filling a lucrative position.

For those who like teaching, yet shrink from the monotony and dead-levelness of grade work, courses are offered in many colleges for students who wish to become teachers of biology, chemistry or physics, research assistants in chemistry or biology, or secretaries to persons engaged in medical or other scientific research, or to fill certain other positions which involve the application of these sciences in the laboratory.

While this work is largely pedagogical, the student is fitted for research work and at the present time many government positions are open to persons qualified in these branches. Social work offers a comparatively new field for the trained woman. Opportunities are offered in this work for studying social problems by practical methods, especially to persons who wish to become paid officers of institutions and agencies, or to prepare themselves for service as volunteers in this field of work. The latest and best results of practice, together with the underlying principles of social service are placed at the disposal of the student, and this work promotes to become more and more important as time goes on.

The recent development of technical high schools, industrial schools, and pre-vocational schools has increased the demand for teachers who are adequately prepared to give instruction in such schools. An untrained person cannot fill a position of this sort, as she is expected to be familiar with industrial conditions and when possible, to have had practice in the industrial arts under business conditions. She must be prepared to give instruction in courses of study which have been planned with reference to immediate use in industrial fields. Her pupils go from school to work, and frequently she is called upon to give part-time schooling to girls employed in some trade or industry. Probably, just at present, a wider field is open to women prepared to give instruction in such schools. ## PRICES VERSUS WAGES

What's the use of raising wages if every increase is to be followed by a greater increase in the cost of living?

The movement for higher wages is quite general and practically continuous. When one craft succeeds, scores of others take up the crusade so that there are always a great number of extensive movements for higher wages in progress at the same time in different parts of the country. The wage earners feel that with the high cost of living they should have higher wages, and the farmers, the merchants and manufacturers feel that as wages go up they are entitled to higher prices for their wares; and thus prices are pushed up in order, it is alleged, to meet the higher wages demanded.

Let us see how these two movements work. The laborer demands more pay from the farmer; the farmer finds the cost of production increased and he must get more for his produce. The middle man has to pay this increase and he puts on a greater increase to the consumer, including the laborer. The mill operative insists on higher wages and perhaps after a strike succeeds in getting a 10 per cent. increase. The men who handle the raw material also demand more money; and in order to avoid a tie-up which would result in serious loss, their demand is granted. The producers of the raw material, as a result, put up the price to the manufacturer. The latter looking into his affairs, finds that with the cost of both labor and material increased, he must put up the price of his products. Then he goes along the line and marks up the prices of his various fabrics and the consumers including the operatives and those who turn out the raw material have to pay the higher prices or go ragged.

The miners of Pennsylvania demanded more money from the operators some years ago and after a struggle their demands were granted; but to do this the operators increased the price of coal to an extent wholly unwarranted by the advance in the wages of miners. But that increase, whether just or unjust, went into effect and the people, including the miners, have since had to pay more than 25 per cent. more for their coal.

Now the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen demand a shorter day and a radical increase of wages. The railroads seem to have no escape but to meet the demands; but they will thereafter proceed to secure an increase in freight rates on the plea that the new wage schedule makes it an imperative necessity. Thus the increase will be distributed over the various commodities carried on the railroads and again the consumers, including the railroad employees, must pay their share.

Now the higher rate of wages paid in practically all crafts throughout the country has caused the prices of nearly all commodities to be pushed up, with the result that some crafts are receiving nearly twice as much for their labor as they did fifteen or twenty years ago; but are they any better off? If wages advanced 75 per cent. and the cost of living 75 or 100 per cent., wherein has the laborer been benefited by all the agitation and the conflicts over wages?

It is clear, therefore, that the condition of labor is not shown by the rate of wages, nor the prosperity of business by the high cost of commodities.

The condition of the laborer depends not upon how much money he gets at the end of a week, but upon how much of the necessities of life his wages will buy. In other words it is the purchasing power of the dollar in the open market. There has been a great drop in this purchasing power of late because of the rapid increase in the cost of commodities, resulting, we are told, from the universal demand for higher wages.

Just so long as powerful machinery is used to boost wages beyond what is regarded as reasonable, so long will there be another machine to boost prices and thus increase the cost of living. This seems to be what we are up against at the present time, and the situation is becoming worse from day to day.

What is to be done about it? Nothing can be done except to prevent the enforcement of any unjust demand either for labor or for higher prices of commodities. It is proposed to have labor troubles settled by arbitration. That would be a good idea but per contra let the price of the main commodities that enter into the cost of living be also fixed by arbitration. It is shown that the rate of wages means nothing except as it relates to the cost of living.

If wages and the prices of commodities were regulated entirely by the laws of supply and demand, neither one nor the other would ever reach any fictitious figure; the laborer would then be fairly paid and the prices of commodities would be based upon their real rather than any fictitious value. This trouble is nothing new in this country, nor is it unknown in other countries, but the pushing up of wages and prices have caused the wage earner to reflect that he fares but little if anything better with his high wages of today than with his moderate wages of some years ago when the cost of living was not nearly so high.

CHANGED TO WILSON

The Rochester (N. Y.) Herald twice supported Mr. Hughes for governor of New York, but is now out for Wilson because Hughes fails to adopt any definite policy. The Herald says:

"He behaves as a machine candidate, too timid to say what he will do, if elected, or what he would have done if he had been elected in Woodrow Wilson's place four years ago, and required to deal with the vast and perplexing problems of Mr. Wilson's term."

A hand-picked candidate named by William Barnes or Thomas C. Platt or Charles F. Murphy for governor of New York, and fearful of the risk of committing himself to any project under the sun, would have behaved just as Mr. Hughes is now behaving. Also, when election came, he would have been beaten out of sight."

SETTLE MEXICAN TROUBLE

The commission for the settlement of the trouble between the United States and Mexico has been chosen and the body will now get to work as soon as convenient, as President Wilson has requested. The Mexican members of the commission were named by Carranza some weeks ago. The whole trouble may be settled within a few months.

Thus another of the chief political bubbles of the Hughes campaign will be punctured. The Mexican question will be properly settled without war in spite of Hughes. Roosevelt & Co., and in spite of that vociferating jingo Congressman Gardner of Essex county.

MELLEN'S VIEW OF IT

Ex-President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad emerges from his obscurity in the Berkshires to remark that it is the bankers who are driving the Boston (and Maine) to the wall. He says they are trying to make a goat of Huxley even as they tried to make a goat of him. The banks, it would seem, will have no trouble in making a goat of anybody who gets into their clutches so deeply as has the Boston and Maine or as did the combination over which Mellen presided before its collapse.

THE MUNICIPAL DANCE

The municipal playgrounds are a very useful institution, very valuable for the children of the city, keeping them off the streets and teaching them many things that are very useful. The closing of the playgrounds is to be made the occasion of a municipal dance, something entirely new and a move towards the civic enjoyment of the older time. It is hoped that the dance upon the green on August 31 will prove a source of real enjoyment to those who attend.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad company has notified all of its employees now serving with the National Guard on the Mexican border, that they must return at once or lose their jobs. The members of the National Guard should send word to this corporation that they prefer Uncle Sam as an employer and they are not likely to suffer any financial loss by showing a spirit of loyalty much greater than that of the Lehigh Valley company. The government should inquire to what extent, if any, this company is interested in coal mining and see that it confines its activities to the railroad business.

When, under the Payne and Dingley tariffs, did the Wall Street Journal (Republican) ever write such editorial comment as this from its issue of August 1, 1916: "Problem of securing labor is steadily becoming more pressing for American manufacturers. Companies which are now employing twice as many men as their normal quota have room for thousands more but cannot find them?"

Since the passage of the American ship registry act of 1914 the number of vessels entering the port of New York has increased by nationalities as follows: American ships, 750, Scandinavian, 426; British, 238; Dutch, 145, and all others, 240. The recent immense growth of American shipping is a prime factor in the continuance of commercial prosperity.

Capitalization of new incorporations for the first seven months of 1916 in the eastern states reached the huge total of $1,699,000,000, as published by the Journal of Commerce. This is more than 75 per cent. of the greatest 12-month record under a republican administration. Does this indicate that American investors look upon the country's prosperity as "temporary?"

Young George sat on the top rail of a fence, down in Livermore Falls, Me., kicking his heels against a lower rail. Along came young Henry and had a swim," suggested Henry. "Can't," said George. "I've been put out here to mind Aunt Sally's and Aunt Mattie's children." Henry looked around wonderingly. There were no children in sight. "Where are they?" he asked. "Blamed if I know," said George.

Here's a Reason

Homer Rodenhaver, Billy Sunday's musical director, relates the Pittsburgh Post said in a temperance meeting address:

"Once, on a visit to England, I noticed that the ragmen, instead of shouting 'Rags, bones, old iron' as we all do, shouted, 'Rags and bottles! Rags and bottles!'"

"Why do you yell rags and bottles especially? What's the point of it?" "Well, sir," he answered, "the point of it is that my experience has shown me that wherever there's bottles there's bound to be rags."

He Knew Him

The very sensational young lady inquired, quizzically, "Oh, colonel don't you love Longfellow's poems?" "Can't say I do," replied the old campaigner. "Never read them, in fact. Consider all poetry absolutely driven."

"But," she persisted, "surely you cannot help admiring this verse of his out of 'The Day is Done,' you know: 'And the night shall be filled with music, And the stars shall be filled with song, And the ## WHEAT MARKET

A Big Drop in Prices
Following Rumania's
Declaration of War

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Rumania's declaration of war smashed the wheat market. Opening prices today showed a fall in some cases amounting to 5¢ cents a bushel. September delivery, which closed Saturday at $1.51½, started today at 1.46 to 1.48½. Other options also broke widely.

General rushes to sell took place, which were added to by the increased chances of a general railway strike in the United States.

Before the drop in prices could be checked, losses that reached to 8¢ cents a bushel were shown by the principal trading months. December, which sold as low as 1.45½ as compared with 1.54 at Saturday's finish. Notwithstanding that the tremendous pressure to unload holdings carried away for a while all other conditions, the extraordinary break proved too tempting for buyers to resist and the market showed the consequence in rallies of 3 cents to 3½, the lowest level.

The traders generally took the view that the action of Rumania was likely to prove a big factor in forcing a more speedy end of hostilities or, at least, to hasten the opening of the Dardanelles and so release huge Russian shipments of wheat.

In the late dealings weakness again became acute. Prices tumbled lower than before and closed demoralized, 3-3½ to 11-14 cents.

CONGRESS READY

Investigation and prevents lockouts or strikes while an industrial dispute is being investigated.

This plan was discussed by the president with his party leaders in congress as the basis for the next step after the railroad managers have formally announced their refusal to accept the plan of settlement the president previously proposed. They were expected to do this at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at a White House conference.

Meanwhile, congress leaders gave up hope of adjournment this week and settled down to stay here as long as necessary to provide legislation to meet the strike situation.

Senator Newlands and the Federal Reserve board conferred today with Acting Attorney General Todd about the legislative program, but all decided that any legal measures for preventing a strike had been discussed.

Wilson to Go Before Congress

While the president has not finally given up hope of bringing about an agreement through direct negotiations, he is going forward with his preparations for going before congress with his plan for legislation.

The president, it was said, today has repeatedly shown a willingness to consent to any plan which would include the principle of the eight-hour day and has stood ready to submit to the railroad employees any plan suggested by the executives which had a possibility of acceptance.

It was understood today that many proposals of different form have been presented to the railway executives through the White House but that they have all been met with the statement that the railroads stood for arbitrating the whole controversy.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, after his conference with Mr. Todd, the president went to the White House to confer with the committee of senators to discuss the proposed legislation.

After his conference with Mr. Todd, Senator Newlands went to the capitol with tentative drafts of the proposed legislation and conferred with Senator Cummins, one of the progressive republican leaders and a member of the interstate commerce commission.

At 2:30 o'clock the sub-committee of eight executives composed of the Messrs. Holden, Ripley, Willard, Smith, Utterbury, Harris, Trumbull, and Bennett, went to the White House to confer with President Wilson. It was then certain that they would present the formal reply to his plan they had prepared.

The committee of eight conferred with President Wilson an hour and afterward Hale Holden, as spokesman, said that a statement would be given by the executives later, but that it would not be a final statement.

Mr. Holden indicated that the plan of the executives to present the president a written statement practically turning down his plan had been changed. Mr. Holden refused to state whether the executives planned to go to the president again or to indicate their plans in any way.

John's Reply to Rea

The four brotherhood heads issued a statement replying to President Rea of the Pennsylvania road, who last night made an announcement that the roads preferred to face a strike. The statement charged the Pennsylvania with inconsistency in that two years ago it fought the efforts of its shippers to organize and arbitrate.

Mr. Holden refused to state whether the executives planned to go to the president again or to indicate their plans in any way.

ec Makes Statement

W. G. Lee, head of the trainmen, today issued a statement declaring that he brotherhood had no intention of striking the eight-hour work day. "It seems evident," the statement said, "from press reports this morning that the railway companies represented here are determined to force a strike rather than accept the compromise settlement offered by President Wilson."

Addressing the multitude, Venizelos said:

"Last week I summoned you to a demonstration to show you what to do. Now I exhort you to send a committee before the king and to say to him:

"Your majesty, you were the victim of persons who persuaded you there would be a German victory and you thought you could violate the constitution. The people do not approve of these facts. The reservists telegraph you that they are ready to follow you because they think you always will remain neutral."

"Elections are necessary, but you must now use your influence politically, because the results would be destructive. The present government is absolutely necessary. The premier (Alexander Zaimis) is an excellent man. You should give the government full political authority. You must now show the entente powers most benevolent neutrality and exercise the army in preparation for a possible rupture of existing conditions. ## TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

IRREGULAR AT OPENING

STEEL AGAIN DROPS—HEAVINESS IN SUGARS—MARINES DOMINATE DEALINGS

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Events over the week end, particularly the impending railway labor crisis and Italy's declaration of war upon Germany, found but slight reflection in the stock market at today's opening.

Initial prices were irregular and mainly lower, but declined except in rails and motors showed not material alteration from last week's final quotations. Losses among rails and motors were fully offset by the gains in shipping shares, especially marines, while Crutcher steel and Mexican petroleum constituted the strong specialties. U. S. Steel was reactionary and secondary prices indicated professional pressure.

Values suffered steady depreciation in the first hour, steel making an extreme decline of 1-1/2 points with one to three for motors, Willys-Overland being the chief element of weakness. Crutcher lost all its gain and an additional 1-1/2 points, with 1 to 3 point reversals in Industrial Alcohol, Colorado Fuel, General Electric, Westinghouse, American Can, Republic Steel and leading equipments. Coppers were comparatively firm, but marines forfeited early advances and leading rails were lower by 1 to almost 2 points.

Fractional rallies were registered at midday. Bonds were lower. Investment issues manifested a better tendency on the very light offerings of the afternoon and marines were in further demand. Obscure specialties were irregular, with heaviness in sugars.

Marines continued to dominate the later dealings with a new high record for the common. The closing was irregular.

UNIVERSITY IS WELL REPRESENTED IN TRAINING CAMPS, NAVAL CRUISE AND AT BORDER

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 28.—The military preparedness cause is receiving tremendous support from Princeton university students and alumni this summer, according to figures learned here today. Practically fifteen per cent of the entire student body have thus far been enrolled in this year's military training camps and this number is three times greater proportionally than that of any other of the country's large colleges. Harvard's percentage ranks second and Yale's third, with Cornell, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and Williams showing much smaller enrollments. The figures are revised to the present week. In addition to sending large delegations to the training camps, Princeton is well represented on the naval practice cruise and several hundred men are in service on the Mexican border. The Princeton total of students in training camps is 250, compared with Harvard's 432 and Yale's 187, but the percentage, due to Princeton's smaller total list, is 15 per cent for Princeton, compared with about five per cent for Harvard and four per cent for Yale. The total students and alumni is Harvard 1648, Yale 902, Princeton 754, Cornell 614, Columbia 513, Pennsylvania 355, Williams 350 and Dartmouth 225. There have thus far this summer been 9323 college men enrolled in the training camps of the country.

The full table of statistics, which has not hitherto been made public, follows:

BURKETT MAKES A NOISE

Releases Catcher Kilhullen and Shortstop O'Connell as a Warning to Others—Close Race

Manager Jesse Burkett, who took over the reins of the Lowell club last Wednesday, has started the shift that he announced was bound to come unless the players showed more life under his management. Joe Kilhullen, former St. Louis American and New London shortstop, has been informed that their services are no longer required with the local club. Other changes will be made while the team is away this week unless more satisfactory results are shown, says Manager Burkett.

The new manager's first analysis of the team gave him the opinion that there were a couple of men on the team who lacked the necessary "pop" to keep the younger players going. He said he had lines out for new men whom he believed would give better team work. Joe Egan, a former Springfield catcher, is the first to report and he caught the second game Saturday.

While with Springfield Egan was used as a second string catcher and batted for about 330. He will undoubtedly do practically all the catching as the release of Shortstop O'Connell has made a vacancy in the infield which Snubber Greenhalge will probably have to fill. Today Manager Burkett intends to play Greenhalge at second. Helfrich at third and Dee at shortstop.

Joe Kilhullen will not be long out of a job if he desires to finish the season. Although his work behind the bat in recent games may have been affected by the burden of the managerial duties which he has shouldered, he is one of the league's star backstops. Kilhullen at present is the best batting catcher in the league and his work behind the bat was always of a high order.

Ralph O'Connell is not so well known here. He came from New London and had only played a day or two when he was spiked and had to retire for a couple of weeks. He had hardly got going right when he sustained another injury at Spaulding park and was once more placed on the hospital list. He is not hitting much over .200.

A GREAT RECORD

"No Hit" Bush and Myers Won 24 of Mack's 26 Victories

One of the most conspicuous instances of a pair of pitchers being the whole team is shown in the records of the Philadelphia Americans this season. Attention is especially called to this situation by the notable achievement of Joe Bush in Saturday's game, when he pitched a no-hit no-run game against the Cleveland team with two of the heaviest hitters in its lineup, Speaker and Roth. It was the first time that a no-hit game had been pitched in the Philadelphia American league park in many seasons and after McInnis made the third out in the ninth with a pop fly the crowd rocked on the field and cheered Bush for several minutes. But one man reached first base and that was in the first inning on a base on balls.

The other clever pitcher in Connie Mack's outfit is Chief Myers. The Mackmen have won 26 games this season. Of these 11 are accredited to Bush and 10 to Myers.

LOWELL MAN IN RACE

FRANK MURPHY ASSISTS MISS KERSHAW IN REVERE-NAHANT SWIM

Frank Murphy, the Lowell swimmer, proved himself a successful pilot yesterday, when he directed Miss Ethel Kershaw of Beaumont in her swim from Revere to Nahant and back in two hours and twenty minutes. The young lady also had a narrow escape from drowning, but was saved by the Lowell swimmer.

There were 14 in the race and upon nearing Nahant two had succeeded in getting by before the boat came in. Just as the steamer was nearing the landing Miss Kershaw came along, and when the boat turned to back in the swim was so strong that it carried the girl down. Murphy quickly saw her plight and rushed to her assistance. He succeeded in pulling her out of danger, and despite her narrow escape the young swimmer did not give up, but continued on her grind and reached her destination in two hours and twenty minutes. Two others besides Murphy and Miss Kershaw finished. Duffy, a male swimmer, was the first to cover the distance, his time being one hour and fifty-eight minutes.

A young man named Clark of the L street bath house, gave a great exhibition during the swim and would have undoubtedly won out had he not been seized with cramps. He was way ahead of all others at the time he was obliged to give up. After the race Clark challenged Miss Kershaw to a swim from Revere to Nahant next Sunday and the Beaumont girl accepted. The match will be for a purse of $25 and the girl will be accompanied by Murphy of Lowell as in her swim yesterday.

STILL AFTER ZIMMERMAN

CHICAGO, August 28.—The transfer of Hein Zimmerman, third baseman of the Cubs, to another club in the National League, was again under consideration today. Three clubs, Boston, New York and Philadelphia, have made bids for Zimmerman's services, according to Manager Tinker of the Cubs. Tinker says he expects to obtain two infielders and a pitcher in the trade.

BELLEVUE DEFEATED

Saturday's game between the Pitts' South Ends and the Bellevues did not develop into the close contest that was expected, judging from the result of the first meeting of these teams. In the first inning the South common boys fell on Pitcher Levine for six runs and they did not use Lawson, who replaced him, much better. Devlin and Scott, the South End twirlers, were both effective. The score was 13 to 2. Besides the pitching, the hitting of Bellevue with a home run, two base hits and a single featured. Lyons drove out a two bagger and two singles.

ALL STARS WON AGAIN

With Herb Mulno, the former Lowell high school pitcher, in fine form, the All Stars played the M.S.L. team of Tewksbury off its feet in that town. Saturday afternoon, Ed Gendreau did the coaching. Mulno allowed but three hits while the All Stars slugged the pill at will and piled up 11 runs. Rogers pitched for the M.S.L. team, and Bidwell was on the receiving end. The batting of Mulno and Ecklund featured.

YORKES YET TO MAKE ERROR

ATLANTA, Aug. 28.—Steve Yorkes, second baseman for the Atlanta team and former American and Federal league player, has accepted 111 chances in 22 games without an error.

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Not one of the Lowell players is hitting the ball in the pinches.

Five of the games scheduled between Lowell and Lawrence remain unplayed owing to the rain.

Hugh Duffy is using a young pitcher named Penfold, who did excellent work with the Waltham team of the Maine trolley league this year.

Worcester made 40 hits in the 25 innings played here Friday and Saturday. The chief trouble is with the pitchers.

Zeke Lohman made his first appearance in uniform since his recent illness. He was called in the game in the first inning when Zieser was knocked from the box, but he did not work very hard.

Greenhalge's throwing to second was better than would be expected of a man that had played second base so long. At second Snubber throws them under-hand and every other way, but he still pegs to that station in good shape when being used behind the bat.

Burkett showed that there was something in the wind Saturday afternoon when he yelled to Kilhullen, who was sitting on the bench while Egan was putting on his guards and Zieser was being warmed up: "Get out and do
